EDITORIAL

Warren's banks, savings companies and loan firms are continually demonstrating their faith in the community.

WEATHER

Partly cloudy, a little cooler, and chance of showers with a high reading about 70 today. Clearing and cooler Friday night with the low about 50.

Top Of The Morning

WEATHER

Temperatures will average near normal during the next five days with today's high reaching about 70. It will be partly cloudy with a chance of showers today, clearing and becoming cooler tonight with a low near 50. Saturday will be mostly fair and cool with the high in the upper 60s. The probability of rain will be 40 per cent today, dropping to about 10 per cent tonight and Saturday. Winds will be westerly from 12 to 20 miles per hour, becoming variable Friday night from 5 to 10 miles per hour.

KINZUA DAM REPORT

Pool level 1317.85 feet (desired summer pool level 1328 feet). Outflow temperature 70 degrees; upper reservoir 72 degrees. The reading at the Warren gauge 3.10 feet.

WARREN COUNTY

The Warren County Redevelopment Authority and other interested local bodies take a second look at the Liberty street urban renewal project after a strong presentation was offered by an involved Montgomery Ward store as to its future location in the downtown sector of the community.

The 1968 United Fund Campaign opens next week with a target goal set at $177,050.

PENNSYLVANIA

The customary election-year exodus from government to politics continues in full force with the appointment of Robert Kunzig to head the Nixon-Agnew National Republican Truth Squad.

Negotiators for the school board and Philadelphia's 12,500 public school teachers agree on two-year contract, providing pay hikes averaging $900 each year.

Archbishop John Mark Gannon, retired bishop of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Erie and a leading educator in the church, dies at 91.

THE NATION

Secretary of Defense Clark Clifford says work will push ahead on the Sentinel antimissile system.

An instant money machine dispensing $50 bills like peanuts goes into operation outside a Miami bank.

THE WORLD

Leaders meet to develop plans to bring Czechoslovakia back to normal as soon as possible despite occupation by Soviet troops.

North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops try to lure allied forces away from their defense of Saigon, perhaps in prelude to a large-scale enemy drive.

SPORTS

The high school football season gets off to a good start tonight as the Youngsville Eagles travel to Johnsonburg to play the Johnsonburg High Rams. And, of course, tomorrow afternoon, Warren Area High footballers go against the Corry Beavers here.

The Cross Country Team of Warren Area High is off and running today. The local harriers run against the North East High Grape Pickers.

It was a quiet day on the Major League Baseball front as ball-players sat in hotel lobbies and traveled from one city to another. The only game played was in D.C. Stadium, where the Washington Senators lost to the Chicago White Sox before a crowd of 1,154, smallest of the season.

County treasurers will accept applications for antlerless deer license, starting Monday, Sept. 16.

The pro football leaguers draft hundreds of players each year and only a handful make it, with the early draft picks being given more consideration. This year, the Pittsburgh Steelers are keeping the boy drafted 417th, really a long shot.

The Montreal Expos, one of the two expansion clubs in the National Baseball League have picked a manager. He is Gene Mauch, for many years manager of the Philadelphia Phillies.

Pigskin Preview

Appears Tomorrow in TM&O

The annual Pigskin Preview for 1968 will appear in Saturday's Times-Mirror and Observer. This year's issue will contain a complete look at all four Warren County teams through interviews with coaches as well as a pictorial look at the hard working teams.

The college roundup will include state college football activities in addition to several conferences. Complete schedules for College and Pro games will also appear.

Announcement of the annual Football Contest will be another added feature in the special edition.

Ward's Wins Round One In Fight to Save Building

An effort by Montgomery Ward to save its auto service department building currently destined to be demolished along with several other properties to make room for some 150 parking spaces under the Liberty street urban renewal project, Thursday won the general acclaim of Warren Borough and some Warren County officials involved.

At a special meeting of the Warren County Redevelopment Authority held in the Warren National Bank board room, officials of Montgomery Ward presented an obviously determined stand: we will move out if we will not be able to maintain an auto service facility close to our downtown store on Liberty street. The auto service building is located at the rear of the Ward store on Liberty street and is involved in the area between Second avenue and Third street which is being razed (north-south through the center of the block) to make room for additional public parking under the Parking Authority.

Marshall Linman, manager of the local Ward store, and William Vincent, regional real estate manager for the firm, were present Thursday to present their case before the Redevelopment Authority (urban renewal) meeting. Also present were representatives of Warren Borough Council, the Warren Planning Commission, Warren Parking Authority, the Citizens' Advisory Group, Warren County Chamber of Commerce, interested property owners and attorneys representing businesses involved.

Jacob Levinson, head of the Parking Authority, and James Torrance, president of Warren Borough Council, were among the strongest to emphasize that the community certainly does not want Montgomery Ward to move out of the downtown business section. The theory expressed by them, and others, was that if downtown Warren is to remain a vital and growing sector of the community Ward's needs should be met.

Following pro and con arguments during the two and one-half hours.

Register At Local P.O. Today

Final plans are in readiness for the special voter registration in the lobby of the Warren post office this afternoon and evening. Hours will be from one o'clock to 8 when official county registrars assigned by the county commissioners for the convenience of the voter will be on duty to serve the public.

Near the registration table will be a booth manned by the League of Women Voters. Mrs. Edward Burns, the Voters Service chairman, said helpful information will be available on the election laws, absentee voting and absentee registration, as well as other nonpartisan facts.

Working with her will be Mrs. Wayne K. Mann, Mrs. Margaret Wright and Mrs. Charles Barone. They will be happy to demonstrate the use of the voting machine also.

Those who have not voted for the past two years should come in to re-register. Recent brides must register in their new names. Moving from one voting district to another also requires re-registration.

Newcomers to Warren are reminded that they need only establish residency in Pennsylvania of 90 days prior to the Nov. 5 election and 60 days in their voting district. Recent legislation makes them eligible to vote instead of being disfranchised during the former long wait.

In June the post office lobby was the scene of another special registration which attracted many 21-year-olds. It is hoped that today many more young people will drop in and register, a five-minute procedure.

Motorists Reminded of Law Dealing with School Buses

Now that school has started, state police of the Warren substation remind motorists, both veteran or new, that enforcement of Section 1018 of the Motor Vehicle Code dealing with passing school buses will be rigidly enforced.

Drivers of any vehicle approaching or overtaking a school bus which has stopped for the purpose of receiving or discharging one or more school children must stop his vehicle not less than 10 feet from the school bus and keep the vehicle stationary until any child has entered the bus or has alighted and reached the side of the highway.

Where highways have dual or multiple roadways separated by safety islands or physical traffic separation installations the driver of a vehicle on another roadway approaching the stopped school bus is required to reduce speed to not more than 15 miles an hour and not resume normal speed until the vehicle has passed the school bus and any child who may have alighted from or entered the bus.

Whenever a school bus is parked at the curb for the purpose of receiving or discharging children to enter a school located on the same side of the street as that on which the school bus is parked, drivers are permitted to pass the bus without stopping but not in excess of 15mph.

Drivers of school buses are not permitted to start the bus until every child who has alighted has reached a place of safety.

Persons violating any provisions of this section, upon summary conviction before a magistrate, will be sentenced to pay a $25 fine, costs of prosecution and if in default of payment will be imprisoned for not more than 10 days.

1968 United Fund Campaign Sets Target Goal of $177,050

C. L. Christensen, United Fund president and general chairman for the annual financial campaign announces that the drive will open on Thursday, September 12 with a kickoff luncheon in the Conewango Club prior to the solicitation of Special Gifts and Peace Setter Gifts.

A week later, September 19, the Industrial Division will hold a kickoff luncheon with subsequent divisional kickoffs on October 1 and October 8. The campaign for $177,050 will continue until October 30.

Christensen also announced that the Industrial Division will be headed this fall by William R. Walker, president of Walker Creamery Products Company who will be assisted by Howard R. Lauffenburger, president, Pennsylvania Furnace and Iron; John D. Haggerty, Jr., vice president, Warren National Bank; and Gordon L. Hanks, president, Myers Laboratories, Inc.

The general chairman said that other key campaign leaders are currently enrolling volunteer workers in preparation for the county-wide effort, with in a few weeks, he said, there will be more than 500 men and women actively participating in the drive.

The September 12 kickoff is in advance of the regular campaign and workers will be contacting individuals and corporations who are among the largest supporters of the annual appeal.

These donors, called Peace Setters, are part of the Industrial Division and the Special Gifts Division. Industry has assumed a quota this fall of $108,000 and Special Gifts will try to raise $25,300 as their quota of the total goal.

In order to reach the goal of $177,050, Christensen said, a general increase of 7 per cent must be achieved.

Reserve Space Now

Churches, charitable groups and others desiring a location during Warren's Sidewalk Days—September 27 and 28—are reminded their deadline for reservations is Wednesday, September 11.

Defense Secretary Pushes Sentinel Missile System

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford announced Thursday firm plans to go ahead with building an antimissile shield and to maintain "significant" forces in Europe to face up to the sharpening Soviet threat.

In a relatively hard-line speech, the defense chief took note of the Russian-led invasion of Czechoslovakia and declared: "The developments of these last few days confirm the fact that, when and if we negotiate, safety and success demand that we negotiate from strength."

Speaking at a National Press Club luncheon, he said he is making the controversial Sentinel antimissile missile system exempt from budget cuts recently ordered by Congress. The system carries a $5 billion price tag.

For the most part Vietnam took a back seat in Clifford's comments but he said in answer to questions he thinks the long expected third enemy offensive may now be underway.

But Clifford said the battle-field commanders are equipped to cope with the new offensive. "Militarily," he said, "we are in substantially better position today than we were a year ago."

As for the Paris peace negotiations Clifford said: "If we stay with it, and work with it, and continue to have the type of military results we are having in Vietnam, I believe we will begin to get progress in Paris." Clifford declined to confirm reports that the Soviet Union has developed multiple warheads for its nuclear missiles but said the United States is forging such a weapon because "a position of substantial strength is essential and is the best position from which we can negotiate agreements that may make the threat of nuclear war increasingly remote."

Clifford praised the North Atlantic Treaty Organization as a major factor in maintaining the peace in Europe.

"The events of the past couple of weeks, I submit, have clearly demonstrated that a significant American military presence in Western Europe is still needed," he said. Steps had been taken to cut down on the U.S. forces in Europe before the Soviet move into Czechoslovakia reversed this. In response to questions Clifford defended the performance of intelligence experts who analyzed Soviet movements before the invasion of Czechoslovakia. Clifford said that on the day of the Soviet invasion President Johnson received intelligence information which said the Soviets had set into motion certain operations that indicated a push into Czechoslovakia. But he said the Soviets had been practicing similar exercises along the Czech border in previous days so that the United States could not be sure this was the real thing.

Leaders Plan to Bring Czechs Back to Normal

PRAGUE (AP) — Government leaders met Thursday to discuss measures needed to bring Czechoslovakia back to as normal conditions as possible under the Soviet bloc occupation.

No details were disclosed, but the session coincided with reports that Soviet leaders were meeting in Moscow. These accounts said the Moscow meeting could prove significant to Czechoslovakia's future course.

Despite the Soviet crackdown on Czechoslovakia's liberalized policy of free speech and an uncensored press, signs persisted that the public and some leaders still are defying the occupation forces.

Prague's trade union newspaper, reported residents in the industrial region of Ostrava are replacing a special election to replace Drahomir Kolder, accused of collaborating with the Russians, in the National Assembly. Kolder is a former member of the Communist party Presidium.

The Russians have demanded that road signs and house numbers, removed to confuse the occupying forces, be restored in Prague and elsewhere. This presumably is to make easier raids on homes suspected of harboring "counterrevolutionaries."

The Prague mayor's office, without mentioning the occupation, appealed to the people to replace the signs and house numbers to make the work of ambulance drivers and delivery men easier—as he put it.

Enemy Troops Try to Lure Allies from Defense Post

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops tried to lure allied forces out from their defense of Saigon Thursday, perhaps in prelude to a large-scale enemy drive against the capital.

U.S. intelligence sources said the earliest the enemy could mount an attack against the capital was mid-September, provided it scored successes over allied forces in the outlying areas.

The U.S. Command announced that American combat casualties soared last week to the highest level in the past three months. It said 408 American troops were killed and 2,513 were wounded in the second week of fighting that followed a two-month lull in the ground war.

Enemy forces tried unsuccessfully to throw the allied defense of Saigon off balance when they shattered the ground war lull Aug. 18 with heavy offensive along the Cambodian border northwest of the capital. Intelligence officers say the enemy hoped to force the allies into pulling troops out of the Saigon defense ring.

More than 2,000 American and South Vietnamese infantrymen launched a drive into the Boi Loi Woods, 30 miles northwest of Saigon, Thursday, in search of an enemy force believed bent on upsetting the allies' defenses.

Miami Bank Dispenses Instant Money

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — An instant money machine began dispensing $50 bills like packaged peanuts Thursday outside a Miami bank.

The machine is an automatic credit card loan system to provide individuals up to $300 cash day or night seven days a week. A white plastic card, magnetically coded, is inserted in a slot of the seven-foot gray box. Inside the machine, a computer reads the card. A hum from the works sounds and a white envelope containing $50 rolls from another slot.

If the customer wants $50 more he deposits another card. The cards are kept by the bank until the loan is paid, for up to a year.

Archbishop John Mark Gannon, Leading Educator, Dies at 91

Archbishop John Mark Gannon, spiritual leader of Erie Roman Catholic Diocese for the past 46 years, died at 6:45 p.m. Thursday at the bishop's residence in Erie. He was 91. With the bishop at the time of his death were Auxiliary Bishop Fred M. Watson; the Most Rev. John Gannon, his nephew; and Sisters Frances Clare and Florian, who were the bishop's housekeepers. A male nurse had cared for the archbishop for the past two months.

Archbishop Gannon, a native of Erie, was ordained a priest Dec. 21, 1901 in the Cathedral of the Assumption, Baltimore, Md.

He was born June 12, 1877, the son of Thomas Gannon and Julia Dunlavy Gannon. He attended school at St. Bonaventure University, Olean, N.Y., and Catholic University, Washington, D.C.

His first assignment in the Diocese of Erie was as assistant at St. Patrick's Church. The Catholic leader continued his studies during his early years as a priest at the University of Munich in Germany and Apollinari University, Rome, Italy.

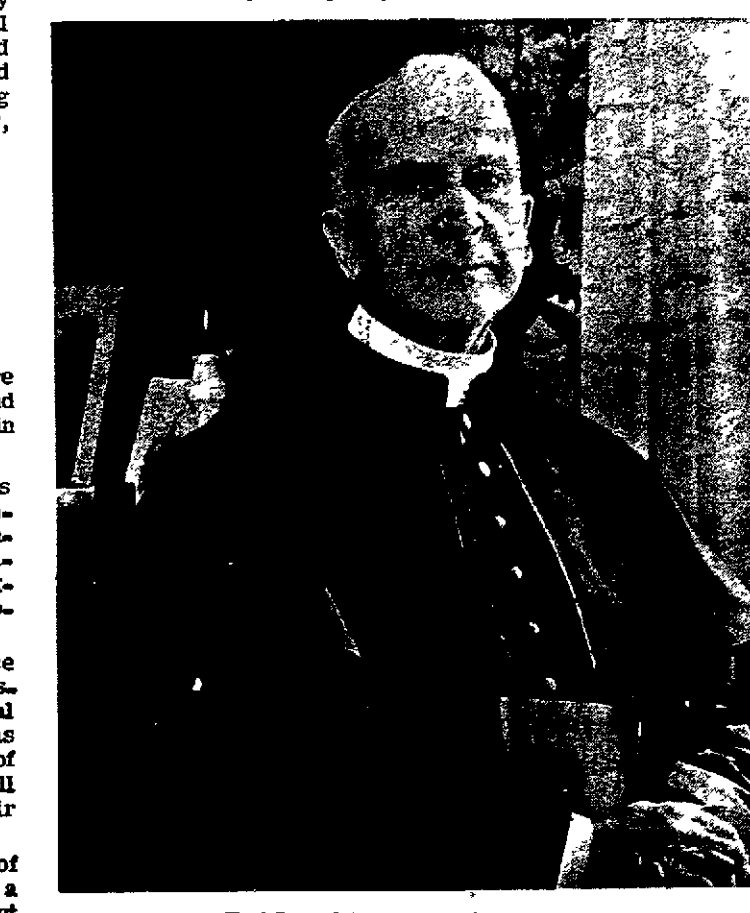

The archbishop was appointed superintendent of the Diocesan School in 1908 and in that position succeeded in instituting a fairly uniform curriculum throughout the school.

Archbishop Gannon, in an announcement from the Holy Father in 1917, was made Auxiliary Bishop to Bishop Fitzmaurice; thus he became the first native Erieite among the five Erie Diocese bishops at that time to reach that stature.

His consecration by Bishop Michael Hoban of Scranton, Pa. as Auxiliary Bishop took place Feb. 6, 1918 in St. Peter's Cathedral.

Bishop Fitzmaurice died June 18, 1920, and Archbishop Gannon was installed as Bishop of Erie at St. Peter's Cathedral Dec. 17 of that year, with Dennis Cardinal Dougherty, of Philadelphia presiding.

The Erie Diocese educational system flourished under Bishop Gannon's astute guidance. The list of new schools -- ele-

Exodus from Government To Politics in Full Swing

HARRISBURG (AP) — The customary election-year exodus from government to politics continued in full force Thursday with the appointment of Robert L. Kunzig to head the Nixon-Agnew National Republican Truth Squad.

The announcement of Kunzig's temporary departure as executive director of the General State Authority for the month of October was made by Gov. Shafer, who said the assignment was made at the request of presidential nominee Richard M. Nixon.

Kunzig, a former aide to U.S. Sen. Hugh Scott and Shafer's 1966 campaign manager, headed similar ventures for the 1956 Eisenhower and 1960 Nixon presidential campaigns.

The truth squad consists of a group of Republican senators, governors and congressmen following Democratic candidates into campaign areas to respond promptly to issues raised by the opposition ticket.

Shafer said Kunzig, who receives $25,000 annually at the GSA, would be replaced for the duration of his absence by James Logan, the borrow-and-build agency's deputy executive director.

Kunzig's departure was the latest in a series of campaign transfers that began Aug. 21 when Shafer approvingly announced that Insurance Commissioner David O. Maxwell would leave his $25,000 cabinet post to become the GOP's state campaign coordinator.

Thirteen Pleas Entered In Open Court Arraignment

Racial Climate Improved

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit's over-all racial climate was depicted Thursday as improved since last summer's riots, with both the black and white communities closer together.

The description was included in a private survey conducted for New Detroit, Inc., a group organized to coordinate efforts to ease racial tensions in the city.

"The survey added, however, that while the feeling of improvement is prevalent 'there are still vast differences in attitudes and understandings between the races.'"

Conducted by Market Strategy, Inc., the survey involved 1,200 Negroes and whites - 400 each in the inner city, outer city and suburbs. It was conducted between June 15 and July 15.

While reporting that a predominant number of blacks and whites feel there has been a positive change for the better, the report said that "fear of possible violence is a concern shared by both blacks and whites."

Of all those interviewed, the report continued, less than 10 per cent see another riot as necessary to further black goals.

"However," the report added, "this attitude is far more apparent among black youths under 25 years of age of whom almost one in four feel more rioting is necessary."

The study shows further that about 40 per cent of all interviewed have strong feelings that if more progress than has been evident so far is not made soon, there may be more violence.

BES Objective: Right Person For Right Job

"Fitting the right person into the right job is the main objective of the local state employment office," says Andrew Donick, manager of the Warren County employment office.

The cooperative school program, in which the five high schools in Warren county take part, he says, is a continuous program between the schools and the employment office, in helping graduating seniors get started on working careers.

Each year throughout Pennsylvania, over 700 high schools take part in the program. The service provides graduating seniors who will be entering the local labor market, with various services that help them choose and achieve a vocational goal. These services include aptitude testing, employment counseling, registration for work, and job placement activities.

"The ultimate goal of the cooperative school program," explains Donick, "is to place graduates in suitable jobs."

Follow-up on the 1968 graduating seniors by the local employment office indicates that a great percentage of students have found jobs. Of a total of 678 graduates from Warren County schools in 1968, 210 or 31 percent registered for full-time employment with the local office. One hundred thirty-six or 65 percent were counseled and tested. In Warren county graduate placements for the first three months after graduation number 81, or 39 percent of the graduates registered in the local employment office.

Statistics indicate a great number of high school graduates are making use of the bureau services. Also various employers in the area are hiring qualified high school graduates to fill their job openings through the local office.

The cooperative school program is a program of close cooperation of local schools, employers and the employment service in helping recent high school graduates find a place in the world of work.

Settlement Reached in Philly Teachers' Salary Dispute

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — With a midnight strike deadline drawing near, negotiators for the school board and Philadelphia's 12,500 public school teachers agreed Thursday, on a new, two-year contract providing pay hikes averaging $900 each year.

The pact was ratified within two hours by a voice vote of teachers union members massed at a downtown hotel, paying the way for the opening of Philadelphia schools as scheduled on Friday. A school board vote is set for next Monday night.

In addition to a wage package costing $13.8 million this year and twice that next year, the new contract also decreases maximum class sizes and changes teacher transfer policy, a school administration spokesman said.

The maximum class size, which was 39 pupils, will be reduced immediately to 37 and to 35 in the 1969-70 school year, the spokesman said.

This will require hiring of additional teachers, but this was also figured into the wage package, said the spokesman.

The new transfer policy gives the administration some authority to order transfers. In the past all transfers were voluntary.

Several members of the school board had demanded a mandatory transfer policy to foster integration and racial balance of faculties, but the union resisted.

Under the compromise plan, the superintendent of schools can order transfer of first year or new teachers but not teachers with one or more years of experience.

To encourage voluntary transfers to foster integration and a balance of experience levels expected to yield about $85 million, meaning Tate will have to find other sources of revenue to meet the $73 million goal.

The school board had been seeking $30 million to balance its $43 million operating budget, but school officials had said they expected to receive $25 million at most.

Have Faith--Help Beautify

There are skeptics and there are people with faith. There is no question that at least one element in the community of Warren has faith, and with topping.

This element consists of the people who deal with money—the banks, savings companies and loan firms. The freshest example of this took place Thursday evening with the ribbon cutting of the Penn-Franklin branch of the Pennsylvania Bank and Trust Company on Warren's east side. One bank spokesman stated during the ceremonies that PB&T has faith in the future of Warren, adding that its customers on the east side warranted the new service and that the newly remodeled facility would add to the beauty of the community.

This trend of thinking on the part of Warren's financial institutions is commendable. The bank mentioned above not too long ago remodeled its downtown facility. Northwest Savings has a new, modern building and offers a beautiful hospitality room for local groups to meet in. The Warren National Bank has remodeled and built modern branches on the east side and the foot of Market street. And the majority of the loan companies have remodeled and put new fronts on their downtown locations.

A good example for any downtown merchant or business to follow.

JAMES RESTON

Should GOP be Represented?

(c) N. Y. Times News Service
NEW YORK—President Johnson and his aides are now engaged in various diplomatic activities which will clearly affect the vital interests of the United States long after Johnson has left the White House. The Paris peace talks on Vietnam are one example. The conversations with the NATO allies about maintaining 250,000 U.S. troops in Europe are another. The future of missile systems is a third, and these clearly raise some interesting questions.

In the interests of a safe and orderly transition of power to the next administration, should the major presidential candidates not be represented at these talks? Vice President Humphrey, of course, already is represented, so should Nixon not have the same opportunity, if he cares to take it?

There is no question here of interfering with President Johnson's authority or freedom of action. It is his right and duty to act for the nation until January 20 next, but his successor must live with his decisions, and either carry them out or repudiate them, and this is what raises the problem.

Fortunately, there are some guiding historical precedents for just such a situation. In the 1944 presidential election campaign, when President Roosevelt was beginning to negotiate the formation of the United Nations and wanted to avoid the kind of political obstruction that killed the league of nations, he invited the Republican candidate, Thomas E. Dewey, to appoint an agent to participate in the talks. Gov. Dewey appointed John Foster Dulles and this kept the opposition party in touch with the problem without interfering with the administration's authority.

Similarly, when President Truman succeeded Roosevelt and soon after began to talk to the World War II allies about the peace treaties, he invited Sen. Arthur Vandenberg, Republican of Michigan and Dulles, not only to observe but to participate in the negotiations.

The British government followed the same procedure during the Potsdam conference with the Russians in 1945. Prime Minister Winston Churchill was facing a national election at that time and he took the leader of the opposition, Clement Attlee, to Potsdam with him, and was later replaced at Potsdam by Attlee who won the election.

The present situation is at least comparable. If a peace treaty is negotiated for Vietnam at Paris, it will undoubtedly have to be ratified by the Senate elected in November. Any commitments taken to assure the defense of Europe after the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia will mean very little to the Western European allies unless they know that the next U.S. president agrees in general with the defense arrangements approved by President Johnson.

Similarly, the Johnson administration is now planning a series of the most critical negotiations with the Russians on the future of offensive and defensive missile systems, and what happens in these will obviously affect the security of the United States and the budget of the United States long after Johnson has retired to his ranch in Texas.

President Johnson, of course, has agreed to inform Nixon about developments in the foreign field, but this is not the same as inviting him to have a representative in on the Vietnam talks, the missile talks and the European defense talks. Humphrey is well protected.

He has been in on all these conversations from the beginning. He attended the White House review of U.S.-European policy in Washington this week, and he has access to all the documents on all the important questions. Therefore, the problem of continuity for him, if he should win, would not be too difficult.

Nixon's problem would be harder. He would not know all the previous steps in the negotiations. He would not be informed on the east of character of the negotiating tables, but if his representatives were involved from now till November, he would be in a much better position to take over if he wins.

There is very little danger, though there may be some, that Nixon would differ with the administration's positions in these diplomatic talks and carry his differences into the campaign, but the risk is probably worth taking.

Nixon has been very responsible in the first week of his campaign. He refused in Chicago this week to discuss the Democratic nominating convention in that city. He said they were being investigated and did not want to interfere, though he could undoubtedly have exploited them to his political advantage.

Similarly, he refused to involve himself in the controversy over the nomination of Justice Abe Fortas as Chief Justice of the United States. This was the Senate's business, he said, and if it confirmed Fortas, he (Nixon) would work with him.

If this is going to be his posture in the campaign, he is entitled to be represented in the diplomatic decisions he may have to implement. The continuity of policy by informed officials is the main thing for the nation.

JIM BISHOP School A Formal Bore

The opening of school never brought joy to this heart. It was a fall sentence with no parole, a formal bore. What was asked of me was time and attention and I gave as little as possible. In all subjects I was the most mediocre of students. I never flunked, but I could come closer to a failing grade than any of my conferees.

It is a pity that education is mandatory for the young, because they are not equipped to appreciate it. What should be a triumph is regarded as a chore. I have seen youngsters skipping from school but I've never seen one skipping to a seat of learning. Even the pace of walking to class is different from the happy hop homeward.

The absorption of knowledge is a matter of memory. The use of the knowledge is intellectual. Too often, the child is unaware of why he must know that two plus three equal five. If, of course, it does...

Penmanship and spelling were important in my time. Today, the handwriting of many students is almost indecipherable and many of them are certain that the word cat begins with a k. I have received notes from successful businessmen with a sentence that opens: "You no how I feel about this..." "I expect to be hear a weak or two..."

The best students I knew were girls. If there were good medals to be given out, the young ladies won them. They applied themselves more fervently to their work, and their little heads retained what teachers put in them. Not one of these students ever produced anything except children and a good home. This can be done without knowing the difference between an adverb and a preposition. Or, for that matter, that Saudi Arabia is a peninsula flanked on three sides by water.

And yet, next to health, education is the most important thing in the life of a human. It represents the difference between us and the rest of the animals. They have not learned how to pass information from generation to generation, either by sound or by written symbols. If a group of chickens cross a road and a number are killed by automobiles, the survivors are unable to warn their young about the danger. A domesticated dog lavishes affection on his owner, but his instincts tell him that this is where all that free food comes from.

Education is also an instrument of discipline. This is the part that hurts, but a properly administered school is a dictatorship. The lower echelon of party functionaries tell you when to arrive, when to sit, when to stand, what to salute, how to recite, what to read and how to ask permission to go to the bathroom. Chronic violations of any of these precepts bring punishment and sometimes a personal visit to the office of the head dictator.

He may be nothing at home, but behind that desk he is the law. The more lenient he is the more the students will abuse him. They are constantly feeling with their antennae to find the outer limits of license. If a principal enforces discipline, the students hate him and some of their parents will fight him in a personal confrontation. The strict disciplinarian is, in truth, taking on a task that should be taught in the home: obedience to authority.

My objection to school was that no teacher wanted to tell me the why of any subject. I could stand up and say that Cornwallis surrendered at Yorktown, but I didn't know how he was, or why he quit. In time, I knew which countries produced tin or copper or coal, but I didn't have the faintest notion of what they did with the stuff.

The night I received my diploma from Father Edward A. Kelly I realized that I was a pretty fair parrot. A few years later, education became important to me. I began to see that my hands and head were useless without the proper tools. So I began all over. At the start of manhood, I was astonished at how fast I could learn, and how interesting each subject can be. Suddenly, nothing was dull.

I milked the minds of wise men long since gone. I could be selective, picking the subjects, skimming to find the gems hidden between book covers. They had been there all along, but I had been too young to understand their worth.

School opens. I close on this note: How come I always forget the apostrophe in the word ain't?...

TV, Violence and Chicago

WASHINGTON—This is a column which will make a lot of TV executives sore. It may also make some viewers skeptical about the TV coverage of the recent Chicago convention.

We attended both political conventions and witnessed violence in both Miami and Chicago. Outside agitators came to both cities to foment trouble that they hoped would attract the spotlight and tarnish the U.S. image.

Anyone who watched the two conventions on television might think that Chicago was exploding with violence while Miami was comparatively peaceful.

Yet in Miami, six persons were killed, and the riot area was put under curfew. In Chicago, sniper fire was reported, but only one policeman was wounded. A bullet also thudded into a bus. The outbreaks never became serious enough to require a curfew.

After the Miami convention we reported that the TV networks, angry over the $3 million it was costing them to pull up their cables and transfer everything to Chicago, intended to retaliate by focusing attention on Democratic "disturbances."

The networks got their revenge. In Chicago they played up the violence which they had virtually ignored in Miami. They complained about tight security restrictions, which, incidentally, had also been imposed by the Republican convention. They sought out the dissidents and featured them while the Democratic orators were expounding.

This raises two important questions about the role of TV at the Democratic convention. 1. Did the TV cameras help incite the violence? There is little doubt that the provocations were planned largely for the benefit of television. We stayed at the Conrad Hilton hotel, which was the center of most of the trouble. During the disturbances we mingled with the hippies and yuppies. We found almost no action outside the circle of the TV klieg lights. Aside from some shouting and surging, little was happening in the darkness.

2. Did the TV networks make news? There is evidence that the TV networks, perhaps in their eagerness to generate high ratings for TV sponsors, encouraged dissidents to make inflammatory statements and helped to stir up controversies. When the networks sell convention time to cigarette and oil sponsors for several million dollars, they have to keep up the viewing interest. One way of doing this is to pick fights, stimulate excitement, interrupt dull speeches and roll calls. Once, the sound was switched on before the cameras focused on a TV newsman about to interview a prominent Democrat. The interviewer was overheard coaching his subject: "Let's keep this Kennedy story going."

The TV networks also presented an outrageously biased picture of the events in Chicago.

How to Beat the Airport Mess

Airport congestion, infuriating delays in arrivals and departures, abrupt flight cancellations, all have been front-page news for the past six weeks. Yesterday's horror stories about 3-4 hour flight delays, near collisions in the crowded skies above our big cities, lost baggage, now have become almost routine.

Right now, the individual airlines, and the Federal Aviation Agency and Civil Aeronautics Board in Washington are wrestling over new ways to solve the air congestion nightmares. These include rationing the number of flights at major airports during peak traffic hours, introducing new baggage air fares during quieter hours, increasing the number of air traffic controllers, re-routing private and business aircraft to suburban airports, and hastening the building of additional airports near big cities.

Plan to arrive at and depart from less congested airports in our biggest cities, particularly if you're flying during peak traffic hours. In New York, this means choosing flights to and from Newark, N.J. vs. flights to and from La Guardia and Kennedy airports. In Washington, it means switching from National to Dulles airport, and using the helicopter service into midtown Washington. In Chicago, it means switching, if possible, from O'Hare to Midway airport. The major airlines are now funneling more flights into these less congested airports, so you may find that the service is better than you think.

Plan your trip so that you fly outside peak travel hours. The peak hours are between 5 and 8 p.m. and between 8 and 10 a.m. On Sundays, the peak hours are between noon and mid-evening. On Fridays, the peak hours are between 5 and 8 p.m. on domestic flights and between 8 and 10 p.m. on international flights. Of course, the biggest air fare bargains are for flights during off-peak hours.

Make every effort to fly on a Saturday, after 12 noon, or on Sunday, before noon. And make every effort to depart after 11 p.m. and before 8 a.m. There are literally hundreds of "early bird" and "night owl" flights between major cities available today. And by taking them you avoid not only flight delays and

They gave the impression, for instance, that the police were beating up innocent young people who had come to Chicago for peaceful demonstrations.

Certainly, the police were too zealous in swinging their billy clubs, and a lot of innocent people were hurt.

But the TV networks scarcely mentioned the provocations that finally made the police lose their tempers. The hippies shouted obscenities, hurled rocks and bottles, sprayed police with caustic chemicals, damaged police cars and generally defied police orders.

One group tore down the American flag and tried to raise a communist flag in its place. Other agitators waved red flags and North Vietnamese flags. A couple of demonstrators slammed a huge chunk of cement through the window of a police car. Others stoned police cars, tossed cherry bombs and stink bombs, smashed windows, broke into liquor stores.

Jerry Rubin, the yippee leader, cried through a bullhorn for violence against the police, whom he called "pigs." Black panther leaders, taking the stump in Lincoln Park, urged the demonstrators to break up into small groups and go on a rampage through Chicago's loop. Other agitators made speeches that sounded like Radio Hanoi and Radio Peking.

The same night that police began cracking heads, 70 policemen were also injured. Several officers had to be hospitalized. By the end of convention week, 118 officers had been hurt.

This was a side of the story that the TV networks largely ignored. They had hundreds of newsmen and cameramen in Chicago who should have been able to get the facts. The two of us, operating alone, easily dug out the full story.

Indeed, we reported in advance what was in store for the Democrats in Chicago. We had studied government intelligence reports which warned that the militants planned a deliberate provocation of the police on the two most important nights of the convention.

We reported that the leaders ranged from communists and anarchists to sincere pacifists. They were directed loosely by the National Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam. The co-chairmen are Dr. Sidney Morris Peck, a former communist, and David Dellinger, a pacifist who has been to Hanoi and is an apologist for Ho Chi Minh.

We reported on August 25: "The committee has trained a group of militant demonstrators to attempt a 'crash-in' to break into the convention amphitheater. They will be directed by marshals carrying walkie-talkies. Calls have gone out for medics to give first aid to the demonstrators and electronic experts to operate the radio equipment."

This was published three days before the first violence. It all happened exactly on schedule. And the TV networks showed it all exactly as they had threatened.

MASON DENISON Back In The Saddle

HARRISBURG — Columnist's Notebook:

HAPPY BUT UNCERTAIN — Pennsylvania Democrats, back in the saddle this week following their nominating convention rumble in Chicago, in one sense felt somewhat self-satisfied and it might be said a bit on the happy side, but in another sense concerned and uncertain.

From the standpoint of a show of unity on the part of the Pennsylvania delegation during the Chicago rub-a-dub there was a n questioned smiles — with even broader smiles the order of the day with the thought neatly tucked away that it was the Pennsylvania vote splurge that put Vice-President Humphrey securely in the box.

On the other hand, the uproarious display witnessed at the convention by viewers of the electronic marvel and readers of the public prints has caused deep concern within the Democratic hierarchy here — particularly when they recall the lack of rowdiness that marked the Republican convention earlier.

Most generally admitted that what happened in Chicago will have some effect on the Democratic vote in the Keystone State come November and the general election — the big question being of course as to the ultimate extent. On the local candidate front there are those, for example, Democrats seeking legislative seats, who have been questioning whether it might not be wiser to stay off the campaign trail for a week or two to avoid too strong a connotation in the voter mind between the Democratic candidate and the convention fiasco. Or as one expressed it: "Maybe we ought to let it cool a little!"

Cool or not, Democrats fighting their uphill battle for a return to Capitol Hill, will have to live with the convention episode — perhaps for more than this year!

ON THE FIRING LINE — Last week following conclusion of the Democratic National Convention (the morning) FOTTE-TOWN MERCURY, an independent newspaper for the past 37 years, pulled no punches when in a front page editorial the newspaper announced its endorsement of Republican presidential hopeful Richard M. Nixon, noting significantly in its editorial: "The Democrats have shown that they can't keep their own house in order. In view of this how could they possibly keep order in the country?"

Same day from New York came an acknowledgment and expression of appreciation from Mr. Nixon — which in the opinion of this columnist represents an amazing (and needed) firing line change of pace from the candidate Nixon stance of eight years ago!

THE COST OF JOBLESS PAY — Amazingly, perhaps, few workers realize that they contribute a cent to the Pennsylvania Unemployment Compensation Fund, the proceeds of which are used to tide them over when they're out of work. Who then does pick up the tab? It's paid exclusively by Pennsylvania employers who during the past 31 years have paid into the UC Fund the tidy sum of $4,628,634.814.

In that period, total UC benefits paid to jobless Pennsylvania workers have amounted to $4,075,439,730, according to the State Bureau of Employment Security.

JUMPING EDUCATIONAL COSTS — Most people realize that educational costs in recent years have been on the upswing but perhaps few really grasp to just what extent.

Just five years ago the appropriation for education in Pennsylvania was pegged at $600,895,450 during the 1964-65 fiscal year. Today the figure is $1,085,581,070 for the current 1968-69 fiscal year. During the five-year span the biggest jump came during the 1965-67 fiscal year when it climbed to $823,458,862 from the previous year's $699,765,434, according to the Legislative Budget and Finance Committee.

Dean Whitaker, ace fast ball artist for the National Forge baseball nine, did right well by himself when he pitched three innings for the Pittsburgh Pirates in an exhibition game against the second Army team.

Word was received in Warren that Governor James H. Duff has allocated more than $71,000 for construction work at Warren State Hospital. The fund is earmarked for a new dairy building.

Look again at train schedules on short trips of, say 150-200 miles. Quite possibly, you can save time, door-to-door, by taking a train instead of a plane.

Take advantage, as many people don't, of airport curb-side check-in service offered by some airlines, if you have your reservation and your ticket. All you do, when you arrive, is hand your ticket and suitcase to the check-in attendant, tell him where you're going, and proceed directly to the gate.

Finally, try to avoid all the delays involved in checking in and retrieving your baggage by traveling with a suitcase within the carrying on size limits set by the airlines. The limits, to remind you, are 9" by 13" by 23".

Since 1930, the year Bob Friend was born, the Pittsburgh Pirates have come up with only two 20-victory pitchers. Now Friend is just one game short of becoming the third.

Sugar Grove was visited by a severe wind, electrical and rain storm. The town was without power for about two hours when a branch was blown into high tension wires near the Legion Home.

Older People and Their Homes

By ELIZABETH M. FOWLER
(c) N.Y. Times News Service
NEW YORK — A house or not a house is a decision that many older couples approaching the retirement age of 65 have to consider. Shall they stay in their family home, or sell it and buy a smaller one or move into an apartment.

Since a house ranks as a major asset to most families, its selling price is important. Many homes owned over a period of years in desirable neighborhoods have sharply increased in value, partly due to inflation, partly to housing shortages, partly to population growth spreading into suburban areas, partly due to apartments, etc.

What many elderly couples perhaps do not realize is that the tax law gives them a break when they sell their home by releasing them from some of the burden of capital gains taxes under certain conditions.

When making their plans to sell, an elderly couple might do well to 1—Get a preliminary estimate from a local real estate man or several and from knowledgeable neighbors as to what they might expect to receive for the house; 2—They should obtain a brochure from the Internal Revenue Service called "Selling Your Home" which outlines the rules applicable; and 3—They should search their files for old bills and other data on the original costs of the house, the cost of improvements etc. to give them supporting evidence with regard to capital gains taxes.

All this takes a little time and research so the couple shouldn't expect to rush into a deal involving sale of their home.

The tax law generally gives elderly couples a break

on capital gains taxes if the following requirements are met:

—The owner must reach the age of 65 before the date of sale or exchange of the property. If the home is owned jointly and a joint income tax is filed, only one of the pair need be 65.

—The house must have been owned and used as a principal residence for at least five of the eight year period up to the sale date. A summer home doesn't count.

—There's a rule that says only one election to take the special capital gains treatment can be made in a lifetime. So old couples who buy and sell several houses before settling down after reaching 65 will find they can qualify only once for the favorable ruling.

—Benefits also apply to condominiums, cooperative housing and to sales of houses condemned for public use such as for new state highways. A big house traded for a smaller one also would be eligible.

What is the good tax news? If the adjusted sales price of the home is $20,000 or less, the couple need pay no capital gains tax. The adjusted sales price is reached by subtracting from the actual selling price, the commissions paid to a real estate broker, some fixing up expenses such as a coat of paint and other expenses. The fixing up must be done within 90 days of sale date to meet the requirement.

If the house sells for more than $20,000 the gain is figured on the basis of a proportion. Thus, if an adjusted sales price is more than $20,000, part of the gain may be excluded. The exclusion is an amount that bears the same ratio to the entire amount of gain as $20,000 bears to the adjusted sales price.

One additional benefit is that like anyone younger selling a house, the old couple can also postpone some gain if they buy another dwelling place within the time period allowed by law. Since the rules covering this are also complex the couple should get help in figuring totals if they do not understand the rules as presented in the brochure on selling your home.

Aldrich Elected VP Of Allegheny

WASHINGTON, D.C. — James B. Aldrich has been elected Vice President — Management Information Services for Allegheny Airlines, President Leslie O. Barnes announced Thursday.

"We are placing increased emphasis on management information systems and electronic data processing," Barnes said, "Allegheny is experiencing a substantial annual growth rate and prime attention must be given to maintaining our development in this primary support area."

Aldrich is a graduate of the Wharton School of Finance and Commerce of the University of Pennsylvania and holds a BS Degree in Economics.

He is a native of Buffalo, N.Y., and is married to the former Margaret A. Layne of Meadville, Pa. They have three children and currently reside at 222 Interstate Parkway, Bradford, Pa.

Before joining Allegheny, Aldrich was Vice President and Cashier of the Bradford National Bank, Bradford, Pa. In his new position he will be located at the Allegheny Airlines Headquarters in Washington, D.C.

AEC Rapped For Laxity In Safety

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission has allowed construction of nuclear power plants to continue "while safety problems remain unsolved," Rep. John P. Saylor, R-Pa., said Thursday.

Saylor, in a House speech, called for support of his resolution to create a federal committee on nuclear development to review and reevaluate the nation's civilian nuclear program.

He also predicted growing concern by the nation's editorial writers may force Congress to take such a step.

Saylor, who represents a heavy coal mining district, has reportedly demanded a moratorium on the licensing of new nuclear power plants until safety questions have been resolved.

"As greater attention is directed toward the policy of allowing construction of atomic plants while safety problems remain unsolved, the general public can be expected to rise in indignation and protest in the realization that AEC is promoting a program with latent disaster consequences," Saylor said.

Pros Start Playing Game For Keeps in AFL Tonight

The pros start playing for keeps in the American Football League this weekend with Paul Brown's new and young Cincinnati Bengals taking on the veteran Chargers at San Diego today in the opener.

This will be televised nationally by NBC starting at 8:30 p.m., EDT.

Two other AFL openers are on the hefty weekend program which also includes 10 exhibition games.

On Sunday, Boston and Buffalo, two rebuilding teams in the AFL's Eastern Division, meet at Buffalo at 2 p.m., EDT. On Monday night, two of the league's powers, Kansas City's Western runners-up and Houston's defending Eastern champions, clash at Houston Monday at 9 p.m., EDT.

The other four AFL teams will be in action in final exhibitions Saturday night.

Denver, the West's cellar team last season, faces Oakland's league champions at Portland, Ore.

The New York Jets, still worried over quarterback Joe Namath's aching left knee, face the rugged Detroit Lions of the National Football League in the first game of a doubleheader at Cleveland.

It will be followed by the all NFL match between the champion Green Bay Packers and the Cleveland Browns.

The NFL opens its regular season a week later with Atlanta playing at Minnesota Saturday night, Sept. 14. There will be six games on Sunday, Sept. 15, and another Monday night between Los Angeles and the Cardinals at St. Louis.

In the exhibitions this weekend, there are two interleague games, one AFL contest and seven between NFL teams.

The AFL, which was walloped 13-3 in exhibitions with the NFL last season, now holds an 11-10 edge over the senior league. The AFL needs only one victory in the two games to finish on top.

The Lions are favored over the Jets but the contest between the NFL's Atlanta Falcons and the AFL's Dolphins at Miami Saturday night rates as a toss-up.

Three NFL exhibitions will be held Friday night, Minnesota meets New Orleans at Shreveport, La., St. Louis plays at Chicago and San Francisco takes on the Rams at Los Angeles.

In the other NFL exhibitions Saturday, the New York Giants meet the Philadelphia Eagles at Princeton, N.J.; Baltimore opposes the Cowboys at Dallas, and Pittsburgh tackles Washington at Norfolk, Va. The Giants-Eagles game is an afternoon affair, the other two night games.

Green Bay, Dallas and Los Angeles are the favorites to win their respective divisions in the NFL while Cleveland and St. Louis are the co-favorites in the Century Division.

Brown's Bengals won their last two preseason games after losing their first three. But the former wizard of the Cleveland Browns isn't dreaming of any titles this year because of this.

"We haven't played anybody when it really counted," he said. "We don't mislead ourselves, but from here on you'll see a difference in the other teams."

Rookie Dewey Warren and John Stofa, who had been sidelined for three weeks with a knee injury, are expected to share the quarterbacking duties for the Bengals. The Chargers are all set with quarterback John Hadl to lead the attack.

Warren Harriers Host North East

The Warren Dragon Harriers will get a jump on the football wars at 4 p.m. today at the high school when the North East Grapepickers pay a visit.

The Dragons will be under the leadership of newly appointed coach Tom Tourtellott. He sends his team into the cross-country meet and over the 2.6 mile course with Captain Larry Maxwell leading the way.

Dave Dickerson, Grover Cleveland, Dan Pierce, Bruce Myers, Dave Segel, Rob Schorman, Randy Brown, Scott Oelslager, Dick Hulings and Vic Graziano will complete the team's starting trotters. Coach Tourtellott extends a cordial invitation to all interested parties to be present at the meet.

Youngsville Eagles Open 1968 Season At Johnsonburg

The Youngsville Eagles will receive their baptism into the 1968 football season this evening as they travel to Johnsonburg for an encounter with the Rams opening the football season in Warren County.

Calling the signals for the Eagles will be quarterback Tom Burleigh, a returning letterman. The Eagle backfield will be made up of Max Collins and Bob Long with the other positions yet undecided.

Johnsonburg will be a tough offensive power with seven backfield men returning as lettermen. Bernie Kanski will go as quarterback for the Rams, who tilts the scales at 170 pounds. The halfback spots will be a tossup between Bill Anderson, Mike Zuroski, Jerry Jones, and Don Olszewski. Francis Fumair and Rick Polinski will fight it out for the fullback positions.

Meet Me in St. Louis

NEW YORK (AP) — The World Series will open in the National League city—St. Louis—barring a massive collapse of the Cardinals—on Wednesday, Oct. 2, baseball Commissioner William D. Eckert announced Thursday.

All games will start at 1 p.m., local time. Detroit, with an eight-game lead in the American League, appears headed for its first pennant and World Series in 25 years.

The second game will be in the National League city, Thursday, Oct. 3. Friday will be a travel day. The next three games in the best-of-7 series, will be played in the American League city, Saturday, Oct. 5, Sunday and Monday, if the fifth game is necessary.

If more games are required, Tuesday, Oct. 8 will be a travel day, with the sixth and seventh games, if necessary, in the National League city, Wednesday, Oct. 9, and Thursday, Oct. 10.

Super Bowl Ducats Now on Sale

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Sale of tickets for the Super Bowl game matching National and American Football League champions will start today, 10 weeks earlier than last year.

Last year the Rams finished with a 3-3 record in conference play and an overall 4-5 reading.

Coach Bill Shesman expects to find his strongest point up the middle with a fast running break. However, Shesman is worried about the depth of the squad at all positions.

The Eagles will be meeting the Rams for the first time and thus really don't know what to expect. A victory for Youngsville could spark the rest of the teams in the county to open with wins and thus the Eagles have quite a standard to set.

Anterless Licenses Available Sept. 16

County treasurers throughout the state will begin accepting applications for anterless deer licenses on Monday, Sept. 16.

Only county treasurers are authorized to issue these licenses and non-residents may "not" apply for anterless deer licenses before Nov. 16.

Cost of an anterless license is $1.15 plus 10 cents postage and can be issued only to holders of a current resident or non-resident hunting license. This license is valid only in the county in which it is issued.

Each application for an anterless deer license must show clearly the name and complete address and the 1968-69 hunting license and number. Envelopes containing applications should be plainly marked, Anterless Deer License Application.

Application forms are available from any license issuing agent, county treasurer or the Pennsylvania Game Commission.

Penguins Sign Burns and Price

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Penguins announced Thursday that veterans Noel Price and Charlie Burns have signed their contracts for the 1968-69 National Hockey League season.

White Sox Top Nats Before only 1,154

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gerry McNertney's two-run single in the seventh inning gave rookie Jerry Nymman and the Chicago White Sox a 2-1 victory over the Washington Senators Thursday night in a makeup game before 1,154, smallest crowd of the season in D.C. Stadium.

Nymman, who shut out the New York Yankees in his major league debut last week, gave up three hits and an unearned run in seven innings. Hoyt Wilhelm and Gary Peters finished up.

Tom McCraw opened the White Sox seventh with an infield hit but was out stealing on a 3-1 pitch to pinch hitter Leon Wagner. Wagner then walked and Ken Berry doubled just inside the third base line.

McNertney blooped a single to right, scoring Wagner and Berry to hand Camilo Pascual his 10th defeat.

The Senators scored in the fourth when Nymman bobbled Ken McMullen's tap and then

Gene Mauch Named Montreal Expos Manager

MONTREAL (AP) — Gene Mauch, fired three months ago by the Philadelphia Phillies, was named Thursday as manager of the Montreal Expos, the new National League baseball team.

Mauch's appointment and the disclosure of the nickname for Canada's first major league ball club were announced by John McHale, the team president, at a press conference.

"Gene has the youth and the dash and he's the mold to handle a new club," said McHale. "He is a great handler of young players."

Mauch, 43 years old, agreed to a one-year contract for an undisclosed amount of money. A native of Saline, Kan., Mauch managed the Phillies for 8½ years starting in 1960. He guided the team from eight-place finishes in 1960 and 1961 to seventh in 1962, fourth in 1963, a tie for second in 1964, sixth in 1965, fourth in 1966 and fifth in 1967. He was succeeded by Bob Skinner.

Mauch played in Montreal as an infielder with the Royals of the International League in 1943 and later for Brooklyn, Boston, Chicago and St. Louis in the National League and for the Boston Red Sox of the A.L. He retired as a player in 1959.

Wattsburg Races Resume

WATTSBURG — Racing resumes at Wattsburg Speedway tonight following a week's layoff because of the Erie County Fair. Race time is 8 p.m.

Larry Parmenter, race director at the speedway, said the track will feature a program of Indy "500" type sprint cars and early model stock cars. He said he had received inquiries about the Sept. 6 program from regular Indy circuit drivers in Southern Pennsylvania and Ohio.

Point leaders at the speedway include Mike Eckert, Bob Patch, Gary Christenson, Chet Inman, and Ron Stanko.

Recall 12

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates recalled 12 players from their minor league system Thursday, but said none of them would report this season.

The 12, all out on option, were added to the Pirates' roster and will join the club at spring training next year in Bradenton, Fla.

Green Bay and L.A. Picked To Win in NFL Divisions

NEW YORK (AP) — Can Green Bay's National Football League dynasty survive the abdication of its architect-prince? No doubt about it, says the man who should know best. And who's going to argue with Vince Lombardi?

"The greatness of the Packers is ahead of them," Lombardi promised last winter after relinquishing the Green Bay coaching reins to Phil Bengtson, his defensive Merlin through nine years and five NFL championships.

Now, it's up to the Packers to keep the faith, and the Lombardi legacy—pride, discipline and Bart Starr—plus plenty of talent should carry them through another bitter Western Conference struggle to the East-West title game on Dec. 29.

Unlike the East, where Dallas could run away and hide from the pack, the Western race figures to be a five-or-six-way scramble. The Packers can expect intensified Central Division challenges from Chicago and Detroit. The Los Angeles Rams, Coastal Division champs last year, again should go down to the wire with Baltimore and, possibly, San Francisco.

Here's the way the final looks from this grandstand seat:

Central
1. Green Bay 1. Los Angeles
2. Chicago 2. Baltimore
3. Detroit 3. San Francisco
4. Minnesota 4. Atlanta

The Packers' chief assets during the Lombardi era—spirit, toughness, execution—remain for Bengtson to exploit. Starr is Green Bay's money man, having risen to the occasion time and again when blue chips were on the line.

The gutsy quarterback bridged the gap while the Packers' ground-gaining machinery passed from the hands of Paul Hornung and Jim Taylor to maturing bonus babes Donny Anderson and Jim Grabowski.

Still, the strongest suit is a fierce defensive unit led by the NFL's finest linebacking trio—Dave Robinson, Ray Nitschke and Lee Roy Caffey—and best cornerbacks—Bob Jeter and Herb Adderley.

Defense also is the name of the game for the Bears, who finished with a rush in 1967, beat Green Bay in a recent exhibition and could be ready to give the Packers a run for the money under new Coach Jim Dooley, hand-picked successor to retired Papa Bear George Halas.

Middle linebacker Dick Butkus leads Chicago's rough-and-tumble defensive crew but sensational Gale Sayers has been carrying the offensive load for four years, and even Sayers needs a little help.

The Lions came up with NFL's two top rookies—running back Mel Farr and defensive back Lem Barney—last season and landed another prize—receiver Earl McCullough—in this year's draft. They also acquired quarterback Bill Munson in a trade with Los Angeles, giving Coach Joe Schmidt the offensive-defensive balance he lacked in the past.

Minnesota, which missed Fran Tarkenton's passing arm in 1967, split a pair of three-point squeakers with Green Bay and tied Baltimore in an other-wise lost season. The acquisition of quarterback Gary Cuozzo, from New Orleans, could bolster the Vikings' attack, but it's likely their young defenders will carry a heavy burden again this season.

No. 417 in Pro Football Draft Makes It With Pittsburgh

LATROBE, Pa. (AP) — Rookie Rocky Bleier of Pittsburgh says he always dreamed of playing in the National Football League. But not with the Steelers.

"It was probably the furthest thing from my mind—getting drafted by the Steelers," says Bleier, a halfback who was the 417th player chosen in the last pro football draft.

In the tradition of Steeler backs that has grown over the years—short and chunky—Bleier appears to be a perfect fit, and the former Notre Dame captain says he now feels right at home.

But he admits to disappointment about being drafted so late, and amazement that it was the Steelers.

"I had mixed reactions about it," said the soft-spoken youngster who rushed for 357 yards and scored seven touchdowns for the Irish in 1967.

"I was glad that I was drafted, that I wasn't passed by completely," he said.

"But on the other hand, I was kind of disappointed about getting drafted so late, and disappointed that it was the Steelers. They're not one of the teams you dream about getting drafted by."

As a 16th round pick, Bleier didn't figure big in the Steelers' preseason plans. But Don Shy, the club's top rusher last season, suffered a shoulder separation, and suddenly Bleier found himself in the lineup.

That was in an exhibition game against San Diego, and Bleier responded by leading all rushers with 61 yards. He has continued to impress both in camp and in the preseason games.

BUSY HOCKEY SEASON
HANOVER, N.H. (AP) — Dartmouth will face an ambitious hockey schedule next season. The Indians have a 23-game schedule.

Schnars, Johns and Scott In Race for Track Title

BUSTI—Bob Schnars, far in the lead the past three months in the New Car Division at Stateline Speedway, now finds his lead threatened by two competitors as the pressure mounts.

Bob's nearest rivals are Squirt Johns and Jim Scott.

All three will be driving in the Dean Layfield Memorial Race at Stateline Speedway Saturday. The race has been scheduled for the third time, having been weathered out twice. Race time is 8:30 p.m. Saturday.

Schnars found his 300-point lead in the New Car Division almost cut in half when he came in 21st in a field of 28 last Saturday. Schnars failed to garner any points after a tie rod broke on his racer, sending his 1968 car into the cement retaining wall.

The Layfield race is a 50-lap double-point affair. Johns won the race three years running from 1964 to 1966. Then Schnars won the seventh annual renewal last year to snap the Johns string.

Scott won last weekend's 100-lap Grand Championship, Ronnie Blackmer has wrapped up the Sportsman Class, but Lyle Brown, defending champion, won last week's 25-lap feature and seems to be on another hot streak.

GOLFING WITH Arnold Palmer
Golf's first Million Dollar P.G.A. Winner

SHOTS TO PLAY SLOW BUT FIRM

There is a special shot in golf that calls for a special technique. I speak of the shot from rough grass, close-in to the green. The challenge on these shots is to strike the ball firmly enough to move the clubhead through the deep grass, yet delicately enough so as not to fly the ball over the green.

I like to think "slow but firm" on these shots. I swing a bit slower, or more methodically, than normal, yet with an especially firm grip. The firm grip keeps the club from wavering in the grass and the slower swing keeps the ball from flying too far.

The over-all feel on these short shots from rough should be that you are swinging a bucket of water. You must hold it firmly, yet swing it slowly.

Costs of Demo Convention Are Running Mighty High

CHICAGO (AP) — Producing and policing the 1968 Democratic National Convention will add up to a lot of money — much of it from taxpayers.

John Meek, coordinator of the convention, said Thursday the cost to the party has not been calculated.

James C. Worthy, chairman of the nonpartisan committee which negotiated the agreement to hold the sessions in Chicago, said his group gave $750,000 in cash to the Democratic National Convention Committee.

In addition, he said, his group provided services which amounted to the equivalent of $160,000. This included use of the convention hall and a considerable number of hotel rooms occupied in advance by the staff preparing for the big show.

Worthy recalled that the Republicans received a little more than half as much — $400,000 — when they selected Chicago for their 1960 convention.

The International Amphitheatre, where the Democrats met last week, charged the party $1

Jury Deliberates Fate Of Black Panther Leader

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — A jury with a Negro foreman deliberated Thursday the fate of Black Panther leader Huey Newton, charged with murdering one white policeman and wounding another.

Bobby Seale, who helped Newton form the Black Panther militant group two years ago, told about two dozen of his black-belted, black-jacketed followers outside the court, "If Huey Newton is convicted, the sky's the limit."

Inside, Superior Court Judge Monroe Friedman told the jury to return a verdict "regardless of what the consequences of that verdict may be."

The judge told the jury of seven women and five men it could find the 26-year-old Newton guilty of first-degree murder, second-degree murder or voluntary manslaughter, or it could acquit him.

Experienced court observers predicted a lengthy deliberation.

An hour after the grim-faced jurors received the case, word came that they had elected as foreman David B. Harper, a bank of America loan officer and the only Negro on the jury.

Defense counsel Charles Garry happily exclaimed, "I feel he is the strongest person on the jury."

Newton has been on trial eight weeks on charges of killing policeman John Frey, 25, and wounding policeman Herbert Heanes in an Oct. 28 street shooting in which he himself was wounded in the abdomen.

His Black Panthers, who advocate the arming of Negroes in self defense, have made a nationwide publicity campaign to "Free Huey."

Asked what he meant about the sky being the limit, Seale said, "It means that black people aren't going to go for them living over Huey P. Newton, and that's all there is to it."

Seale himself is free on bail on charges of having a sawed-off shotgun and a pistol with an altered serial number.

Evidence at the trial brought out that the shooting took place after officer Frey stopped Newton's car in a Negro neighborhood at 5 a.m.

A passing Negro bus driver, Henry Grier, testified that he saw Newton pull a pistol and start shooting.

Microscopic pictures established that officer Frey was shot three times with his own service revolver and that officer Heanes also was wounded with it.

No Newton gun has been found, and Frey's gun also is missing.

The prosecution charged that Newton shot the officers with Frey's gun after wresting it away.

Newton testified that he had no weapon and shot no one and that Frey shot him.

Gene McKinney, a Negro who was riding with Newton, refused to testify and is in jail for contempt of court.

The defense alleged the entire incident stemmed from an unprovoked and "diabolical attempt" to get Newton.

The prosecution charged that Newton shot the officers because he was still on parole for a 1964 knifing and feared being sent back to prison.

Dirksen Discloses Threats on Life

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois disclosed Thursday that he was notified by official sources three times in recent months that attempts on his life were planned.

He was given special protection on each occasion, Dirksen said.

He declined to tell newsmen how the plans were discovered or who was said to have been involved.

Dirksen, the Senate minority leader, said that "I was supposed to have been assassinated in my office" late last month.

He said the information came from the Federal Bureau of Investigation, which assigned agents to him during a trip he made to Illinois the same week the tumultuous Democratic National Convention was under way in Chicago.

Dirksen also told reporters that:

Several weeks earlier he was visited at his home near Leesburg, Va., by the Loudoun County sheriff and two uniformed deputies who told that: "A man wants to blow your head off with a shotgun."

And, a military policeman assigned to guard him on a visit to Walter Reed Army Hospital in Washington prior to the Leesburg incident told him "there is a man who wants to kill you," Dirksen said.

Dirksen discussed the reported plans on his life at a news conference while defending measures used by the Chicago police to put down disorder during the Democratic convention.

He said he personally witnessed antiwar demonstrators trying to storm the Conrad Hilton headquarters hotel and said police reaction was proportionate to the provocation.

Dirksen recalled statements by Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago that plots to assassinate principal figures at the convention had been uncovered, Dirksen then reported his own experiences.

Briefs

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Prague radio reported a visiting Soviet officer asked a gathering of factory workers in South Moravia, "Will all those who favor the word 'occupiers' for us stand up?" And all rose immediately, it added. The broadcast said leaflets distributed by Russian soldiers were in — "Abominable Czech."

ROME (AP) — Italy plans to spend $48,160,000 more for arms in 1969 than it spent in 1968, the Defense Ministry announced. The total for new arms next year was put at $323,520,000.

NEW DELHI (AP) — Tourists landing in India without visas may stay here for one month. The limit previously was three days.

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — The government of Thailand has instructed Malay. Singapore Airlines, which processes passengers here for Thai International Airways, to turn away persons with "Beatle-type hairdos or hippie clothes." An embassy official said, "Such people can be a bad influence on our society."

Farmer Fears for Life of Friendly Deer

CLARKSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Peter Bollic is worried about a 2-year-old named Bobby who hangs around his farm, burns cigarettes and pretzels from his friends and shares the parlor television set with his kids.

It's not that the Indiana County farmer doesn't appreciate friendliness. It's just that Bobby is a nearly full-grown two point buck and there's a saying among hunters that a friendly 2-year-old deer will never be a friendly 3-year-old.

"Bow and arrow season is coming up," said Bollic, "and I'm sure—because he's so friendly and all, hell, he'll go up to anybody—that he'll get shot."

Bollic thinks he has a solution. He wants to buy the deer from Pennsylvania. But so far he can't make any headway. He said game commission officials are amazed at Bobby's antics but short on answers.

Bollic said he was told by the state that a special license that would let him keep the deer can be purchased for $60, with an additional fee of $15 annually.

Meanwhile, Bobby romps around Bollic's 200-acre dairy farm thinking bows and arrows went out with the Indians.

"The deer has never been cooped up and has never had anything around his neck," Bollic said. "He's just a big pet, follows you around like a dog."

The Bollics found Bobby about 18 months ago. He was sick and apparently abandoned by his mother. They nursed him back to health and released him, but Bollic said he "just hung around."

"He comes right into the house," said Bollic. "If my kids are watching television, he'll lie right on the floor with them. Sometimes he'll go upstairs and, if we're eating in the kitchen, he'll come in there."

"If the front door is closed, he'll go into the cellar and come up that way."

"You should see the pictures we have of him from Christmas. He laid right alongside the tree."

"We're really attached to him," said Bollic.

The farmer thinks the people who line the road in front of his house to see Bobby feel the same way—even if the buck does beg a cigarette or two and pinch a pretzel here and there.

"It sure would be a shame to get him shot," said Bollic.

State Farm Prices Show Decline

HARRISBURG (AP) — Prices received by Pennsylvania farmers for their products declined 3 per cent during August, the State Crop Reporting Service said Thursday.

The service said lower meat animal and field crop prices contributed to the decline. Hogs were down $1.10 a hundred weight and lambs declined $1.

Field crop prices were all lower except for barley which remained unchanged. The average price for eggs was 37 cents a dozen, a penny higher than the July price.

Takes Less Time

Agricultural experts at Cornell University have estimated that in 1945, on the average, it took 120 hours a year to take care of a cow.

Recently a survey showed that this figure in conventional stanchion barns has been cut to 80 hours per cow per year, but in the free stall barns (with milking parlors and high levels of silage feeding) the average of a sizable number was 43 hours per cow per year.

One farmer reported a low of 28 hours per cow per year!

Revenue Collections Total $127 Million

HARRISBURG (AP) — General Fund revenue collections during August totaled approximately $127.1 million, just $22,000 below the amount anticipated, it was announced Tuesday.

The Office of Administration reported that for the first two months of the 1968-69 fiscal year state revenues totaled $206.3 million, about $1.9 million short of expectations.

The state's biggest revenue producer, the 6 per cent sales tax, brought in $73.1 million last month, $882,000 below the monthly estimate. Cigarette tax receipts totaled $15.4 million, $137,000 less than expected.

On the other hand, the corporate net income tax produced $8.1 million, $527,000 over estimates, and the liquor tax yielded $4.2 million, $198,000 in excess of expectations.

Gypsy Rose Lee Out to Tempt America's Four-Footed Friends

(C) N.Y. Times News Service
WASHINGTON — Gypsy Rose Lee, who unzipped her way to immortality as the First Lady of Burlesque, is now out to tempt America's four-footed friends.

At a party here Thursday night, attended by almost as many dogs as people, Miss Lee was introduced as the new vice-president for consumer relations of Volla Gourmet Food for Pets. (Its canned beef burgundy features just a soupcon of cooking wine to titillate small, fussy feeders.)

Snuggling a one-pound Chinese hairless puppy under her chin, Miss Lee announced that she had nine back home in Beverly Hills just like it—three of them pregnant. "They're all Chinese hairless-naked dogs. What kind of dogs would you expect me to have?" she said. "Well, they're not really naked—they have hair where people have hair."

The dog she held cost $31.25 an ounce—almost worth its weight in gold. Miss Lee put him down on a table with a half-dozen other puppies as they wolfed bowls-full of French beef burgundy and Irish kidney stew.

Miss Lee—ex-stripper, author, actress and writer of a play guaranteed by its promoter not to win the Pulitzer Prize—revealed that she is also an animal lover.

She lives in a 27-room "Early Gloria Swanson" mansion with her dogs; two peacocks, David and Lisa; 30 fan-tailed pigeons; "many, many canaries;" "some lovely finches;" three tanks of goldfish; more tanks of tropical fish; and a whidah bird, which sheds its one long tail-feather every Christmas, Miss Lee said. It then spends the rest of the year growing it back.

Seymour Rosen, the president of Volla, said Miss Lee had been singled out for the post because "we need a personality who loved animals." Miss Lee also owns 2,000 shares of Volla and said she plans to buy more "as soon as they go public."

At the age of 54, Gypsy Rose, born Rose Louise Hovick, is still strikingly handsome. She has big hazel eyes, is 5 feet 9-1/2 inches tall, weighs 125 pounds and is undeniably shapely.

4-H Members to Participate In District Dairy Show

On Saturday, September 7, fifteen 4-H members from Warren County will represent the county 4-H Dairy program at the Annual Northwestern Pennsylvania District Dairy Show at the Crawford County Fairgrounds, according to Norman Perschke, Associate County Agent.

Beginning at 8:30 a.m. there will be a special showmanship contest for the members who won the contest during the County Fair. The winners of Saturday's contest will be the 4-H members who do the best job of showing their animals to the judge. Showing in the Senior division will be Curtis Lindell of Russell, son of Mr. & Mrs. Allan Lindell; in the Intermediate Division the Warren County contestant will be Dennis Johnson of Warren and Dean Johnson will be pushing for honors in the Junior Division. Both Dennis and Dean are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Johnson of 270 Frantz Rd., Warren.

In the Holstein type competition where the most desirable type dairy animal is to be selected, Jake and Tim Lindell of Russell will be competing with Junior calves; Leslie Dodd, Jr. of Corry will be showing an Intermediate Holstein animal; Senior calves will be shown by Daniel Johnson, Russell, and Dean Johnson, Warren. In the Junior Yearling Class, Mike Donaldson, Warren and David Nordin, Russell, will be contesting for honors. Holstein Senior Yearlings will be shown by Howard Wilcox and Curtis Lindell, Russell, and Leslie Dodd, Jr. of Corry.

Representing the county in the Jersey type show will be Jean and James Curtis, Columbus, Junior Calves; Jane Curtis, Columbus, Senior Calf; Janet Curtis, Columbus, Junior Yearling, and Marcia Curtis, Columbus, Senior Yearling.

The animals will be trucked to Meadville on Friday and return to Warren County Saturday following the completion of the Show.

State Receives Federal Grant For Training

Pennsylvania received $612,420 in federal funds Thursday for 11 more training programs involving 375 trainees under the Manpower Development and Training Act, the State Labor and Industry Department's Bureau of Employment Security and the State Department of Public Instruction announced.

Erie's program aims to train 108 persons for jobs in the "Machine Setup Operator" classification. The school district in the City of Erie will give the 40-hour a week 17-week course in the Technical Memorial High School.

Quoting herself, Miss Lee said throatily: "I have everything now I had 20 years ago—except it's all lower."

During her heyday, Miss Lee raised her profession to something approaching respectability by the causes for which she stripped—the Red Cross, the Newspaper Guild, the Spanish Loyalists, Army camps and the War Bond drive.

Miss Lee has been married three times. "Yes, dear, I've overdone that situation most thoroughly," she said. "There were three that I should have and didn't. One was a dental supply man, one an actor and one a Spanish painter. They still are what they were, but I don't have them any longer."

Miss Lee has one son. A grandson was born last April.

Teachers Continue Classroom Boycott

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Teachers in suburban West Homestead continued their classroom boycott Thursday and said they intend to stay away during salary negotiations with the school board.

Nearly 500 pupils got their third extra day of summer vacation as the district's 24 teachers held out for higher pay.

Thelma Rice, school board president, said the teachers rejected the board's offer of a $6,000 starting salary and higher pay for experienced teachers Wednesday night.

While the current starting salary is $5,400, teachers have been demanding $6,500.

Mrs. Rice said the board also offered $1,000 life insurance for each teacher, a one-day emergency leave and a hospitalization plan.

Mrs. Rice said the teachers have refused to return to their classrooms while the negotiations continue.

Shafer Asked To Reconvene Assembly

HARRISBURG (AP) — House Democratic Leader Herbert Fineman called on Gov. Shafer and the Republican majority leadership of the General Assembly Thursday to reconvene the legislature this month, as originally planned.

Fineman said he was concerned over reports that Republicans now wanted to extend the current legislative recess until after the Nov. 5 election. He voiced his objection in a letter to the governor.

"At a time when the legislative branch of the government should desperately be endeavoring to enhance its image and restore public confidence in its operation, it is unthinkable that we should have our work in an uncompleted stage," Fineman said.

Fineman listed 14 proposed pieces of legislation which he said should be acted upon as soon as possible. He said minority Democrats in the House were ready to vote in favor of the bills many of which were proposed by the Shafer administration.

Meanwhile, Shafer's office announced that the governor would meet with Republican legislative leaders next Wednesday to discuss whether the General Assembly will return before or after the election. The meeting was supposed to have been held this week, but a spokesman said some of the lawmakers were unable to attend.

Communist Ruse Exposed When 'Call for Help' Didn't Arrive

(C) N.Y. Times News Service
BONN — An appeal by pro-Moscow Communists in Prague to the citizens of Czechoslovakia, intended to provide the Soviet Union and its followers with the pretext for invading Czechoslovakia, was suppressed during a critical period by journalists loyal to the leadership of Alexander Dubcek, knowledgeable sources disclosed Thursday.

The obstruction of the appeal came on the evening of Aug. 20, a few hours before the invasion began, according to the sources, an East German Communist and a Czech who recently sought refuge in the West. They indicated that the key figure in the pro-Soviet plot and the person most responsible for its failure was Miroslav Sulek, former director of C.T.K., the Czechoslovak press agency.

Sulek was one of the Czechoslovak Communists whose career fostered by former President Antonin Novotny and who remained loyal to Moscow throughout the democratization drive conducted by Dubcek's reform leadership. Also in the group was Novotny's last minister of information, Karel Hoffmann.

According to the sources, these two and others conspired with the Soviet ambassador in Prague, Stepan V. Chervonenko, in drawing up two appeals.

One was a call for help addressed to five Warsaw Pact countries -- the Soviet Union, East Germany, Poland, Bulgaria and Hungary -- to send armed forces to Czechoslovakia and thus save socialism there.

The other was a 1,700-word appeal to the people of Czechoslovakia, intended to justify the call for help from the Warsaw Pact nations.

Sulek was asked to distribute the second appeal to all major eastern and western capitals via the facilities of his press agency. He was also instructed to censor the agency's outgoing dispatches thereafter to prevent contradictions in the official presentation.

Evidently he was a poor choice for the assignment. He had been temporarily suspended from his directorship by the agency's staff and party cell on grounds of incompetence.

When Sulek tried to carry out the instructions, the agency's editors and teletypists rebelled. As a result the domestic appeal was never sent out.

However, Ambassador Chervonenko had already transmitted the initial call for help through diplomatic channels to the five Warsaw Pact regimes. He evidently advised them that the domestic appeal was on its way and would be available for publication in the Aug. 21 editions of the party organs as justification for the occupation of Czechoslovakia. The invasion machinery was already rolling and could not be stopped.

However, the sources recounted, the political pretext was disintegrating.

In East Berlin, Hermann Axen, member of the Communist Politburo, stormed up and down the news room of Neues Deutschland, the party organ, which he had edited until rising higher in the apparatus. He was waiting for the C.T.K. dispatch that never arrived.

Axen, who remained in telephone contact with the party chief, Walter Ulbricht, had already dictated his statement on the "intervention in Czechoslovakia" for publication in Neues Deutschland.

Axen and his counterparts in party newspaper offices in Moscow, Sofia, Warsaw and Budapest waited five hours, holding up the presses in their vain expectation of word from Prague.

Without the domestic appeal, it was clear to the party editors that they could not publish the initial call for help for intervention.

About 3 a.m. Axen and the other East European editors gave up waiting.

Instead of the two Czechoslovak appeals, Neues Deutschland and the others carried a Tass Press Agency announcement saying that "personalities of the party and state of Czechoslovakia" had asked for help.

Not until the Aug. 22 editions did the Soviet regime and its allies distribute the 1,700-word Czechoslovak appeal in their party papers.

But by this time, the sources remarked, the transparency of the ruse had been fully exposed and ridiculed around the world. As a result, the propaganda machinery of the five Warsaw Pact nations had to be shifted to a new attack.

The Soviet-manipulated press of Eastern Europe began to contend that the invasion had been necessitated by the "danger of counterrevolution in Czechoslovakia." This line has been maintained ever since, the sources said.

Church Must Permit Priests to Marry
To Recruit New Men to Ranks

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The Roman Catholic Church must permit priests to marry for the practical reason that it cannot recruit enough men who are willing to remain celibate, spokesmen for a group of priests said Thursday.

The priests, attending a meeting of the National Association on Pastoral Renewal, also maintained that the Vatican's opposition to birth control raises human and practical problems that cannot be solved by Papal decree.

"In this case, it is dissent, not assent, that is loyal to the church," said the Rev. Daniel Maguire, theologian at Catholic University in Washington, D.C. Father Maguire and several other priests expressed their views at a news conference during their meeting at S.M.T. Louis University.

The association was formed to work for optional celibacy in the church. A number of former priests who left the church to marry were attending the meeting.

Shirley Campaigns For Nixon

ROME (AP) — Prim in a pink and black blouse, Shirley Temple Black opened her campaign Thursday to swing absentee American votes to Richard M. Nixon.

The onetime child movie star and defeated congressional candidate maintained at a news conference, however, that her main purpose in stumping Rome, Paris, Frankfurt, Brussels and London for the GOP was to get Americans overseas to vote—for whomever they choose.

"I didn't come to influence votes," she declared. "I came to take care that Americans exercise their birthright to register and vote."

Republicans have estimated that perhaps two million Americans live in Europe, including military personnel.

Mrs. Black also is here to raise money for the Republicans, starting with a fund-raising cocktail party and political rally at the Cavalieri Hilton Friday.

Humphrey Called Friend of Rural Electrification

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — General Manager Robert D. Partridge of the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association described Vice President Hubert Humphrey Thursday as a "long-time and close friend of rural electrification."

Speaking at a convention of representatives of rural electric cooperatives from East Coast states, Partridge said the vice president, now the Democratic nominee for president, has a 98 per cent favorable voting record on power and rural issues.

Partridge said Humphrey had supported the association's position on 51 of 53 issues on which he cast votes in the U.S. Senate between 1949 and 1965.

By comparison, the speaker said the Republican candidate for president, Richard M. Nixon, had supported the association on three occasions and opposed it on 13. The record was compiled, he said, from Nixon's past service in the U.S. House and Senate.

State Supreme Court Upholds Absentee Voting

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Pennsylvania Supreme Court upheld the constitutionality Thursday of absentee voting laws in two cases from Lackawanna and York counties.

The court's ruling upheld the election of a Democratic majority on the Lackawanna County Board of Commissioners and paved the way for settlement of a contested 1966 election that has left the 28th District without a state senator for two years.

Challengers in both cases argued it was unconstitutional for the county board of elections to canvass absentee votes. They claimed that was the duty of district election boards.

In the November, 1967 election, Democrat Edward Zipay and Republican Charles R. Harte and Samuel C. Call polled the most votes for the Lackawanna County Commissioners. Trailing was Democrat Patrick Meliody.

According to the Supreme Sen. Prouty Seeks Guaranteed Income for Elderly

PITTSBURGH (AP) — U.S. Sen. Winston L. Prouty called Wednesday night for a guaranteed income for older Americans, terming poverty the "number one enemy" of the elderly.

The Vermont Republican said statistics show that poverty is increasing among the elderly while decreasing among Americans in general.

Prouty spoke at the 10th annual convention of the American Association of Retired Persons in Pittsburgh.

He also urged a boost in the present $55 minimum monthly Social Security payment and elimination of substantial improvement of the earnings limit for retired persons.

There should be, he said, automatic increases in the payments as the cost of living goes up.

"In a way," he said, "automatic cost of living increases just treat the symptoms rather than the disease, but we can no longer tolerate discrimination against older Americans on fixed incomes."

Contract Awarded

HARRISBURG (AP) — The General State Authority awarded a contract of $142,278 Thursday for electrical work at a proposed addition to the library at Clarion State College.

The contract went to the second low bidder, Church & Mordock Electric, Erie.

Court opinion, however, Harte and Call feared absentee votes might elect Meliody. They appealed first to the County Board of Elections and Common Pleas court to have the counting of civilian absentee ballots by the county board declared unconstitutional.

The votes were counted and Meliody was elected over Call, giving the board a Democratic majority.

Harte and Call appealed to the Supreme Court. They claimed 1963 legislation empowering the county board to canvass the absentee vote conflicted with the state constitution, which said district boards should do the counting.

In the York County election, Republican Sen. Robert O. Beers was opposed by Democrat Henry B. Leader, brother of former Gov. George Leader.

After the election Leader appeared before the York County Board of Elections. He argued the constitution required absentee ballot counting by district boards, and urged the county board not to count the absentee ballots.

The board refused and tabulated the ballots.

Leader appealed to York County Court of Common Pleas, which also ruled against him. He then appealed to the Supreme Court and the election was left hanging, pending its decision by that court.

The Supreme Court, cited the Lackawanna County case Thursday in upholding the right of the county board to canvass the absentee ballots.

It said the district board's function "is strictly a one-day operation" while the county board is a continuing body. "In the face, therefore, of the impossibility of district boards canvassing the absentee ballots during their ephemeral existence," wrote Justice Michael Musmanno, "it would be unfair, unreasonable and unjust to disfranchise the absentee voters."

Justice Musmanno wrote both opinions.

Boro Police Record 27 Aug. Accidents

Borough police recorded 27 accidents during the month of August. There were no fatalities but 11 persons were injured. None of the accidents involved bikes or pedestrians. Hit and run incidents totaled six. Involved in traffic mishaps were 38 local persons, 13 out of town operators, 38 male drivers and 12 female. Property damage was listed at $11,490.

Top Ranking State Educator Paints Bleak School Picture

HARRISBURG (AP) — On the eve of a new school term for Pennsylvania's 3.2 million pupils, Dr. David Kurtzman, state superintendent of public instruction spoke of the possibility of "a very bleak year."

Dr. Kurtzman, interviewed Tuesday in his Harrisburg office, said educational despondency could result if the state legislature does not provide added funds for education.

"The legislation has been there for over a year," he said, "and I've appeared before many governmental committees in favor of it. The governor has committed himself. The 1969 legislature has got to put more money into education."

Additional funds for education are necessary, he said, not only to increase teachers' salaries—the major concern at this time—but to loosen the federal grip on many educational programs conducted by local districts.

Among these programs are experimental innovations which would free education from prevailing 19th century routine by fostering integration and finding an alternative to the inhibiting structure of the classroom.

As specific examples, Dr. Kurtzman cited the "big high school," a massive educational complex planned by the Pittsburgh school district, and educational parks, contemplated by the Philadelphia Board of Education.

More state money, he said, would relieve a locality of dependency on the federal government, which frequently controls a program without an awareness of the area's needs.

Asked about the steadily declining relationship between teachers and school boards, the state's school chief commented: "Any strike is terrible. A strike tends to create a low impression of the school system as far as the teachers and their image are concerned. The public likes to see these things settled without a strike, and if a strike occurs, their confidence in the system falls."

"Too many school board members fail to recognize the importance of teachers. But I don't put the blame entirely on school boards. Teachers must recognize what the school board can pay."

As for the coming school year, Dr. Kurtzman itemized two "great weaknesses" and one strength in statewide educational development.

One "weakness" is what he called the "teacher preparation problem." This summer has been occupied with an urgency to find "a new approach to teacher preparation" in educational circles.

Although some pilot programs are underway in several cities—programs that condition the neophyte teacher to the sometimes tense and complex atmosphere of the classroom—many new teachers, and veterans, will enter their schools this week without a full knowledge of the child, Kurtzman said.

"The teacher must have better understanding," he continued. "Particularly in the underprivileged areas, the teacher should know the background of the pupil. In the case of a student who comes to the classroom and is very difficult, the teacher ought to find out what happened to the child at home. He may have left home when his father was beating his mother."

Another "weakness" Dr. Kurtzman cited was the composition of school districts. Today, the districts correspond regularly to the governmental boundaries of the area where they are located. So we have a Philadelphia school district, Erie district, Scranton district, and so on.

Frequently, the social needs of the general region in which the pupils study exceed the capacity of a governmental unit, Kurtzman said.

In the case of racial integration—which educational authorities consider a definite social need—a district may contain so much racial imbalance within itself that the mathematics of integration cannot be achieved without consolidating with a neighboring district.

"It (consolidation) ought to come by legislative mandate," he said. "But I don't expect to see it during my professional life. Maybe it will come in my lifetime."

Dr. Kurtzman proudly described what he believes to be a strong point in the state's school system today—that curriculum has recognized the necessity of teaching minority group history, particularly Negro history.

"These are programs which put the Negro in the proper perspective," he said. "Many people think Negro history should be taught only to Negro children. But white children need Negro history too. And we will have more courses that teach the contributions to American living made by other groups despite handicaps."

Motorcycle Gang Members Air Gripes

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Three motorcycle gang members, who admitted they're "despicable looking" went to see Dist. Atty. Arlen Specter to vent some of their gripes. They charged police rough them up, and both policemen and motorists pick on them when they try to park their machines.

Specter wound up sympathizing with some of what they said Wednesday. He promised to investigate an Aug. 24 police raid on a party, attended by the Cyclists.

The three, Lenny Shub, 30, president of the Warlocks motorcycle club, George Shennemann, 24, secretary of the Mongols, and Donald Brees, 28, a member of the Mongols, complained policemen made arrests at the party without cause. They also charged a magistrate had policemen arbitrarily pick out 22 of them, then fined them $100 each.

"Everybody is entitled to individual treatment," Specter told them. "Proceedings must be based on evidence."

The three wore blue denim trousers, motorcycle boots and sleeveless and collarless blue denim jackets, decorated with beads and buttons.

All wore long hair and beards, and Brees said "I know I look despicable, but it keeps people from asking a lot of stupid questions."

"Why pick on us," said Shub. "We're not rioters. We don't burn draft cards. We're barred from taprooms and diners. Everybody looks down on us except little kids."

Shub said he once tried to go to Rittenhouse Square in Philadelphia "to see what hippies look like," but the police turned him back.

Shub said motorists complain if they park by a meter because they take up a full parking space, and police ticket them if they park between cars to save space.

Held for Murder

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Charles G. Blackwell, 51, was held on a murder charge Thursday in the sex slaying of an 11-year-old Pittsburgh boy.

Blackwell is accused of sexually assaulting and strangling Charles Millsap, whose body was found July 12 on a hillside on Pittsburgh's South Side. The boy had disappeared a week before after leaving home to buy milk for his mother.

State Investigates Cause Of Murkiness in River

Reacting to the complaints of vacationers and fishermen that the Allegheny River has maintained an unusual degree of murkiness throughout the summer, Assemblyman William Allen recently asked the Department of Forest and Waters to investigate the causes.

Yesterday, Allen met with Anthony Lunetta, chief, Division of Dams and Encroachments, Pennsylvania Department of Forest and Waters, and a spot-to-spot inspection was made from the vicinity of the United refinery, where the water was fairly clear, all the way to Tionesta.

LWV Broadcast To Consider Parking Authority

The third in a series of radio broadcasts by the League of Women Voters will be heard over WNAE tomorrow at 12:15 p.m. It will focus on the Warren Borough Parking Authority.

The series is devoted to sharing with the public the information gathered in the League's local program, "Warren Area Development: support of comprehensive, long-range planning and development, with emphasis on housing needs, and measures to promote understanding of these goals for growth and vitality of the area."

The parking authority was created by the borough council and incorporated back in 1947. Its present makeup is composed of Jacob Levinson, chairman, C. T. Berdine, vice chairman, Elmer Lundahl, treasurer, James Mazza, secretary, and Raymond W. Steber. Victor Miller, the borough manager, and Plue Wendelboe, of the Redevelopment Authority, serve as advisors.

The broadcast will take up such topics as Friday night shopping with its accompanying parking problem. League members learned that there are now 320 parking spaces in the Island parking lot and the Market st. lot. And the new lot being constructed by the Redevelopment Authority at the request of borough council will provide 158 more.

There will be many details given on the radio program which this Saturday will be broadcast by Mrs. Thomas Donaldson and Mrs. Harry Segel.

Warren County Births, Deaths On Increase

(TMO Harrisburg Bureau)

HARRISBURG — Births and deaths in Warren County during the first quarter of the year were up from a year ago during the same period, the State Department of Health said yesterday.

Live births in the county during the three-month period stood at 171 as compared with 165 at the same time in 1967. Deaths within the county climbed from 123 in 1967 to 133.

The current birth rate for the county stands at 13.9 per 1000 population—down from a rate of 14.7 a year earlier, while the present death rate for Warren County during the quarter rounded out to 12.7 per 1000 population (11.7 in 1967).

Leading cause of death in the county continues to be heart disease which during the January-March period took the lives of 48 county residents.

Other leading causes of death in the county during the quarter included vascular lesions affecting the central nervous system (apoplexy, cerebral hemorrhage, stroke, etc.), 17 deaths; cancer, 19; pneumonia and influenza, 10; general arteriosclerosis, four; accidents other than motor vehicle, four; motor vehicle accidents, three; diabetes, three, and all other causes, 25 deaths.

Northern Ireland Prime Minister To Visit Pitt

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Northern Ireland's Prime Minister, Capt. Terence O'Neill, left Belfast Thursday at the start of 17-day industrial promotion tour of the United States and Canada.

He will visit Pittsburgh, Pa., Albany, N.Y., Troy, N.Y., Montreal and St. Johns, Newfoundland, to address bankers and business leaders.

"I will promote Ulster exports and encourage further U.S. industrial development in the province," Capt. O'Neill said.

His visit to Pittsburgh is at the invitation of the Mellon family, whose extensive financial and business interests are centered there. The Mellon's ancestral home was opened three months ago near Omagh, County Tyrone.

Capt. O'Neill will celebrate his 54th birthday Tuesday.

SOCIAL Wanderings by Marion Honhart

A THOROUGHLY DELIGHTFUL EVENING last Saturday, beginning with a lovely drive westward on Route 6 and ending at the Rustic Restaurant (between Youngsville and Corry) was the pleasure of Mrs. Harry A. Decker and myself . . . Julia and I were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Budd Neldig, owners and hosts par excellence of the log cabin type restaurant and its attached Country Store. The Neldigs, Pennsylvania Dutch from Northumberland County, specialize in homecooked foods native to their part of the state: Dutch chicken pot pie, sauerbraten, pickled cabbage, red beet salad, and, on occasion, chicken corn soup, and almost always ham and bean soup, home baked Shoo-fly and Dutch Apple pies, plus other equally delicious homecooked foods not of Pennsylvania Dutch origin.

Red checkered tablecloths, candles, replicas of authentic Pennsylvania Dutch Hex symbols at every window, a small but beautiful aquarium of gorgeously colored tropical fish, an exhibit of an old, old art form called "decoupage" . . . (now enjoying a popular revival) . . . all contribute to the charm of another era one senses within the log cabin walls. By this time you have given your order and have been served quickly and cheerfully, most generous portions! Fame has grown simply by word of mouth and, as a result, the Neldigs built a second dining room last year to accommodate the overflow of happy customers.

After dinner we browsed to our hearts content in the Country Store . . . Here one found everything but the old-fashioned pickles in brine (which we were assured were on their way). Pennsylvania Dutch predominated here too with fascinating little handmade Mennonite doll families; fragrant soaps and candles of all kinds; excellent replicas of antique lamps; old-fashioned candles, licorice root; dishes, pottery; more Hex Signs, but these in decal form; hand carved doll furniture and corn husk dolls made by the mountain people of North Carolina. I even found a floating fish knife! It's a good steel blade enclosed in a wooden ruler which faces truth squarely . . . it recognizes that there are two schools of mendacity accepted among fishermen: On one side is marked quite clearly "Legal Inches For Honest Fishermen," and on the other, "Illegal Inches For Dishonest Fishermen!"

So we browsed, examined and enjoyed ourselves immensely, completing an evening of extraordinary enjoyment . . . For a short period of time we had stepped out of today into yesterday, and if, when you and your family drive out that way you give your imagination free rein, you too, will almost hear the soft clippity-clop of horses hooves coming down a quiet country lane of long ago.

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Recently you accepted a suggestion from a well-meaning reader who came up with a safe way to smoke in bed. The woman said if a person trains himself to hold the cigarette between the middle and fourth fingers, the cigarette cannot drop out of his hand if he should fall asleep. "He will be awakened when the cigarette burns down to his finger," she added.

As chairman of the Emergency Rescue and First Aid Committee of the New York Firemen's Association, I hope you will retract that statement and tell your readers there is no safe way to smoke in bed.

Bed-smokers run two risks. One is asphyxiation, the other is fire. The so called "safe" way might awaken the smoker before he becomes roasted alive, but it would not prevent him from becoming asphyxiated by the smoldering of a wool blanket or a foam rubber mattress.

Please take the word of a fireman who has carried out too many corpses. -- R.E.G.

DEAR R.E.G.: It was dumb of me to have printed that woman's letter and I hereby accept 10 lashes with the old wet noodle. The correct advice is as follows: Do NOT smoke in bed. The ashes on the floor might be your own.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Wilma and I went together for three years. I thought for sure we would be married. When she told me she had another guy she liked better I was shocked and hurt. But I wished her luck, told her to keep my ring and to forget about the $600 she owed me. Wilma and the guy took off for California and I was under the impression they were married but I was wrong.

Six months later she came back to town -- five months pregnant. Her boyfriend had run out on her. She was broke and sick and hungry for a square meal.

I told Wilma I still loved her and asked her to marry me. We have been married two years and I never once mentioned the fact that the baby wasn't mine. I thought we were getting along fine, until two months ago when Wilma asked me to send her to California to visit her folks. They had never seen the baby. I worked on the car for two days getting it ready for the 200-mile trip to the airport.

Last week I got a letter from her saying she and the baby were not coming back. She said she has a job out there but I have a hunch she has teamed up again with the guy who got her pregnant. What do you think? -- ANONYMOUS

DEAR ANON: Your story is a heart breaker, but I think you'll be lucky in the long run if Wilma stays in California.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My penmanship is absolutely terrible and I am ashamed of it. I have tried my darndest to improve but I am a hopeless case.

MR. AND MRS. LYLE WALTER LAYMAN, JR.

Sheffield Methodist Scene Of Thomas-Layman Wedding

Donna Lafawn Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Thomas, 81 Mill st., Sheffield and Lyle Walter Layman, Jr., son of Mrs. Gwen Layman, Warren and Lyle Layman, sr., of East Ely, Nevada, were united in marriage on August 24, 1968. The wedding took place in First Methodist Church, Sheffield, at 2 p. m. with the Rev. Jack Boyd officiating at the double ring ceremony.

Decorations were altar flowers of pink and white daisies and gladiolas.

Music for the wedding was provided by Shawn O'Leary, organist. He accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Vi Rounds, who sang "The Wedding Prayer."

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, approached the altar in a gown of white silk organza over a tulle skirt, styled in princess lines. Peau d'ange lace etched with seed pearls was applied on the empire bodice fashioned with a bateau neckline and brief sleeves. Medallions of the lace were applied down the front of the skirt and chapel length train, which also had applied garlands of the lace extending from a pert back bow. A tulle crown secured her elbow length veil. Her only jewelry was a strand of cultured pearls, the gift of the groom.

Attendants were Mrs. Peggy Teconchuk as matron of honor and Miss Judy Snyder, bridesmaid. They were dressed alike in ginger pink crepe with touches of white Venetian lace. Their butterfly veils were caught to clusters of pink tulle petals centered with seed pearls and crystals.

For her daughter's wedding, the mother of the bride wore a turquoise sheath gown with lace coat and matching accessories. The groom's mother chose a gold knitted suit with matching accessories.

Chambers of Commerce will honor the national finalists and it will be followed by a reception at the LeMar restaurant in Fort Lee, N.J., on Wednesday evening, September 4th.

Tours of New York City's key sightseeing points such as the United Nations, the Empire State Building, Lincoln Center, a Circle Line Cruise around Manhattan Island are scheduled for the national finalists coming to Palisades Amusement Park, N.J., for the pageant.

Allegheny Valley Dancers Attend Federation Event

The third annual Federation Dance for Square Dance Clubs is to be held this Saturday at the new "Oil City Area High School at 8:30 p.m. All clubs in the federation are expected to be represented and the committee preparing for the event is comprised of members from clubs all across the Allegheny Valley area. Callers for the evening will be Dolores, Don and Gene.

A chartered bus load has signed up to leave from the Circle Eight Square Dance Club, plus several additional cars. It is hoped the local club will have the largest representation present.

A lunch will be served and there are to be special awards. Those who are not traveling by bus, but by private car, are encouraged to invite friends to accompany them.

Following the wedding ceremony, a reception was held at St. Michael's pavilion. Decorations were green and white streamers and white wedding bells. A three tier wedding cake centered the bride's table.

For a wedding trip to Niagara Falls, N. Y., the bride wore for traveling a pink whipped cream and lace dress. The newlyweds are residing at 69 Poplar st., Rochester, N. Y.

The bride is a 1967 graduate of Sheffield High School, and will be employed at Blue Cross and Blue Shield in Rochester. The groom graduated from Warren High School in 1967 and is now in training for an x-ray technician at Highland Hospital, Rochester, N. Y.

Out of town guests for the wedding came from Rochester, N. Y., Warren, Commodore, Clarendon and Tiona, Pa., Bowling Green, Ky., Jamestown, Cuba, Springfield, Buffalo, Olean, Hinsdale and Franklinville, New York.

Pre-nuptial parties for the bride were given by Mrs. Peggy Teconchuk, Miss Judy Snyder and Mrs. Barbara Hezel.

Sunday Open House At Kane

The second anniversary of the opening of The Lutheran Home at Kane will be marked by an "Open House" at the Home, 107 Edgar st., Kane, Pa., Sunday, September 15, 1968, 2-4 p.m.

Refreshments will be served and guided tours of the Home will take place.

During its two years of service the 37-bed facility has ministered to some 70 persons of varied faiths in need of its care.

The Home, a social ministry institution of the Western Pennsylvania-West Virginia Synod of the Lutheran Church in America, is open to aged persons under an admissions policy in which "need is the determining factor, rather than resources, age, race or religious belief."

When washing dishes or working at the stove on food that requires constant stirring, I do these chores with my knees resting on a padded kitchen chair.

Not only saves tired toes but I find this very relaxing and still get the job done!

Wedding Vows Exchanged In Cathedral Of San Juan, P.R.

(Translated from an account of wedding in Spanish from newspaper EL MUNDO, San Juan, Puerto Rico, by Olive Hoff)

The cathedral of San Juan in Puerto Rico was the scene of the wedding of Magali Valencia Varona to Joseph George Haser solemnized in a nuptial mass celebrated on July 21, 1968.

The ceremonies were in English and Spanish, with the Rev. Father Castelao officiating.

The bride graduated in secretarial science from the University of Puerto Rico and is the daughter of Senor Virgilio Valencia and Senora Lucy Varona of Valencia of Santurce, Puerto Rico.

The groom is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania with a degree in Business Administration. He is the son of Senor John P. Haser and Senora Alzabeta Haser, of Sheffield, Pa.

Sponsoring the union was Senor Haser and Senora Blanca Varona de Jesus.

Matron of honor was Alida Gonzalez de Iglesias; other attendants were Tensy Machargo de Colon, Coral Gonzalez de Richea and Teresa Rivera de Rivera, all wore yellow and green gowns.

Ushers were John Haser, Jr., Virgilio Valencia, Jake Haser and Jose Gonzalez.

La Nina Blanca de Jesus carried the flowers.

The bride's gown was a creation fashioned by Nieman-Marcus, of Dallas, Texas, in white organza with tiers of lace. Her bridal veil was silk illusion attached to a crown. She carried yellow roses and a rosary.

The reception was held at the Hotel Convento with Senor Hans Tischer in charge.

The newlyweds will reside in Texas.

Opening lead: King of ♦ Aggressive bidding by South landed his side in a six-club contract that was not a favorite to succeed. When his cue bid of three hearts, which was a clear-cut slam try, was followed by North's signoff at three no trump, South should have submitted to partner's judgment.

The subsequent cue bid of four spades automatically catapulted the partnership into a slam. At that, if South held three diamonds and a doubleton in either major, the six-club contract would have hinged on a simple finesse.

West opened the king of diamonds and dummy played the ace. Prospects for the declarer were not very bright—he was confronted with a sure loser in diamonds, and finesses must apparently be taken in hearts and spades.

Trumps were drawn in three rounds as West discarded one diamond and one heart. The king of spades was cashed next, followed by a small spade. When East played low, the jack was successfully finessed. The ace of spades cleared that suit from both hands.

Altho he had negotiated one hurdle, South was convinced that the finesse in hearts must fail, inasmuch as West's overall in that suit clearly marked him with the queen. Declarer saw a ray of hope, however, for it was reasonable to assume that West held a five-card suit for his bid—in which case an end play was in the offing provided that East's hand could be stripped of hearts.

A heart was led to North's king as all hands followed suit. Now the five of diamonds was played. If West won this trick, he would have a choice of leading a heart into the declarer's ace-jack, or else continuing with a diamond which would permit South to discard his losing heart as the dummy ruffed.

It would not avail East, however, to put up the jack of diamonds when declarer exited with that suit, for either a spade or diamond return by East would provide South with the necessary ruff and discard.

Your Horoscope

By Frances Drake

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars, FOR FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 6, 1968

ARIES (March 21 to April 20) — Your planets, going to increasingly more favorable aspect, suggest you note all details and strategy well. Keep eyes front, energies well-directed. In this way you will insure progress.

TAURUS (April 21 to May 21) — Be cautious in making directives and taking others' feelings for granted. Ask, compare notes, then step forth — still carefully — so as not to overstep or fall short of the mark.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21) — You can do more with this day than may appear possible at first glance. A cooperative attitude will help you attain more than you think. A good day for making improvements, renovations generally.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23) — A splendid, encouraging outlook. But opportunities will not all be on the surface. It will be fun looking for them, however. Look for some good news in the P.M.

LEO (July 24 to August 23) — Solar aspects place you in a highly propitious spot for gains if you will exercise your discretion and know-how. Stress accuracy and pay no heed to rumors.

VIRGO (August 24 to September 23) — Among many favored activities now: Secretarial and confidential work; home, children's affairs; travel, outdoor pursuits.

LIBRA (September 24 to October 23) — A good time to retrench, review — at least in part. Do not delay on projects which have been well-prepared, but be sure they are fully ready for action. Don't let minor discussions grow out of proportion.

SCORPIO (October 24 to November 22) — You have a goodly share of fresh sustenance and super-quality attainment before you. Don't get into a useless scrap, but don't hesitate to back your principles and beliefs.

SAGITTARIUS (November 23 to December 21) — Avoid indiscretion and skepticism; study, ask questions, and heed sound advice from young and old alike. This day will need some surgery to cut out its flaws; You are well equipped.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 20) — Note Sagittarius advice; your planetary aspects similar. Some changes indicated that will show their benefits later if handled properly NOW.

AQUARIUS (January 21 to February 19) — Do not be caught up in a dilemma of indecision or scatter efforts in so many directions that you accomplish nothing. Conform where good taste and propriety prevail; be original, too.

PISCES (February 20 to March 20) — Neptune encourages a display of your foresight, imagination and persuasive talent. A little determination will go a long way. Ascertain all factors, boundaries before moving.

YOU BORN TODAY are both intellectually and manually dexterous. You think quickly, act speedily. You are idealistic and artistically inclined. Develop your creative talents, especially those in literature and art, for a hobby. Many vocations adopted by Virgoans eventually become full-time jobs. Curtail excessive activity, for your inner reserves can become depleted without your realizing it.

How to Keep Well

By Dr. T. R. Van Dellen

(c) 1968 by The Chicago Tribune

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

EPILEPSY CONTROL

Control is the goal in the treatment of epilepsy. It means preventing seizures at all times without producing adverse side reactions. This is the aim of physicians and with the cooperation of the sufferer and our many fine drugs, seizures can be minimized or controlled completely in 80 per cent. These products are not habit forming and some epileptics eventually can discontinue them. Certain forms of epilepsy require surgery.

Many victims go into convulsions, but other epileptics have momentary blackouts, localized muscle jerking, or bizarre movements, such as lip smacking or chewing. Abnormal brain waves set off the seizures. Manifestations depend on which area of the brain is "firing off" these impulses plus the duration and extent of the electrical discharge.

Any lesion or disease of the brain may initiate the disturbance. In many, there is no demonstrable cause. Forty per cent have a history of head injury, but the percentage probably is higher when we consider how many children are hurt during delivery or when babies or toddlers.

Dilantin, tridione, and phenobarbital subdue the abnormal brain activity. These drugs should be used only under the direction of a physician. We must also stress the importance of taking these products regularly. If a reaction takes place, do not stop the drug. Consult the physician because a substitute may be available.

Epileptics must follow rules of health to the letter. This means regular sleeping habits and omitting excessive stimulants such as coffee, tea, amphetamines, and alcohol. Most of these men and women can work, but not in occupations dangerous to themselves or others. Being a pilot, steeplejack, or working near heavy machinery is not for them.

TOMORROW: Real Heartburn.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

TOO YOUNG FOR COFFEE

J. Doe writes: I am 14 years old and in disagreement with my parents because they don't allow me to drink coffee. I like the taste and insist upon drinking it. They let me have tea, which has more caffeine than coffee. Please advise.

REPLY

The caffeine content of tea is variable and depends upon how long the tea bag remains in the water. If it makes your parents happier, why not go along with their advice?

HAIR LOSES ITS BEAUTY

Mrs. C. writes: I never have abused my hair with bleaches and dyes but now, at 50, it is thin and has no luster. Would you know why?

REPLY

Your hair problem may be due to poor health, anemia, liver trouble, or a glandular disorder such as a deficient thyroid secretion.

AILMENT OF MOIST AREAS

A reader writes: What is thrush?

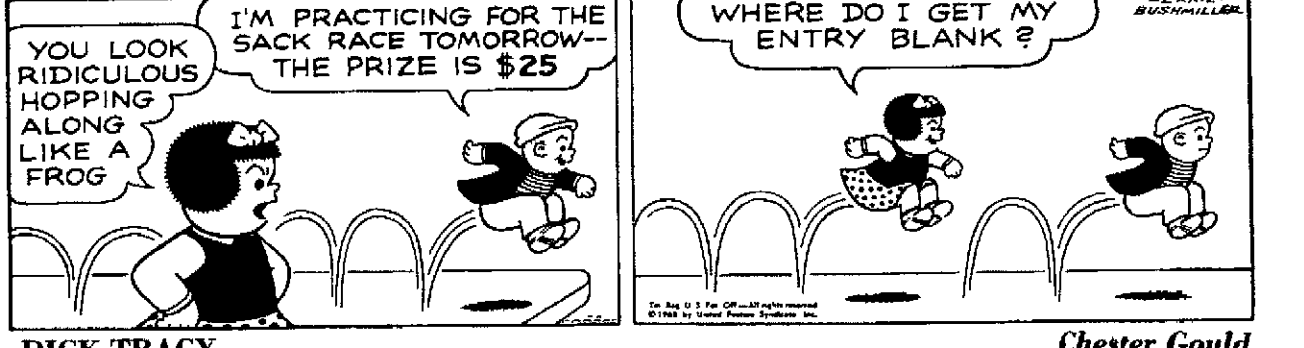

REPLY

Thrush is a fungus infection that usually involves the mouth. It is partial to newborn babies but may also affect adults, especially around the anal region, moist areas between the fingers, and under the breasts. Nystatin is a good remedy.

Double Banana Cake

Mash a banana for the liquid ingredient in your next spice cake to give a sweet and melon flavor and to help keep the cake fresh and moist.

Butter cream frosting, flavored with banana, makes this a double banana treat. Carried to the picnic in its own disposable baking pan, what could be a more practical and welcome traveling companion for a picnic dessert?

For those who are in a double hurry, use the Banana Butterscotch Cake recipe and start with a packaged cake mix. Mashed banana added to the batter makes a new tasting cake from an already favorite mix.

DOUBLE BANANA CAKE
2 1/2 cups sifted cake flour
2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 1/4 teaspoons cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1/2 teaspoon clove
1/2 cup shortening
1 1/4 cups sugar
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 1/2 cups mashed banana (3-4)
2 9" square disposable aluminum pans

Mix and sift flour, baking powder, baking soda, salt and spices. Cream shortening and sugar. Beat in 2 eggs, separately. Add vanilla. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with mashed bananas, beating smooth after each addition. Line pans with paper. Grease and flour pans. Pour in batter. Bake 25 minutes at 375 degrees. Cake will be done when inserted toothpick comes out clean and dry. Cool in pans on racks. Frost in pans, using Banana Butter Cream Frosting. Score for nine servings each. Center pecan half on each square. Fine for picnics, traveling, church suppers.

BANANA BUTTER CREAM FROSTING
1/2 cup mashed banana
1/2 teaspoon lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup butter
3 1/2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar

Cream butter with salt. Combine banana and lemon juice. Add alternately to butter with confectioners' sugar. Beat until fluffy.

BANANA BUTTERSCOTCH CAKE
1 package caramel cake mix
2 eggs
1/2 cup water
1 tablespoon rum flavoring
1 cup mashed banana

Combine ingredients in large mixer bowl, blend until moistened. Beat two minutes at medium speed, or 300 vigorous hand strokes. Pour into two paper-lined, greased and floured cake pans, 9" round. Bake 30 to 35 minutes at 350 degrees. Cool. Frost with Banana Butter Cream Frosting. For picnics or to travel, bake in 9" square disposable aluminum cake pans. Cool and frost in pans. Score for nine servings. Decorate each serving with pecan half.

NOTE: If desired, the water and rum flavoring can be replaced by 1/2 cup of light rum.

Friday's TV Highlights

MEET THE BANANASPLITS is a preview of a new Saturday morning series, "Kellogg Presents the Banana Splits Adventure Hour" which premieres Saturday morning, September 7. The program will consist of live action, comedy, cartoons and music. Series hosts are the Banana Splits, a quartet of rock musicians and comedians. 7:30 on Ch. 6 and 12.

FRIDAY MOVIE SPECIAL on Ch. 11 at 8 p.m. is "Because They're Young" with Dick Clark and Michael Callen. A new high school teacher takes more than an ordinary interest in his students, although the principal would rather he kept more aloof.

PRO FOOTBALL '68: "Destination Super Bowl" is featured on Chs. 2, 6, and 12 at 8 p.m. just prior to the Bengals-Chargers game. This will be a critical look at the contending American and National Football League Teams, their upcoming seasons and their eventual meeting next January in the Super Bowl.

The hippies are certainly efficient gardeners — they wear the flowers and smoke the weeds.

TIDIOUTE

Reporter: Lois McCloskey
484-3846Post 8803 Picnic
Has Big Turnout

Over 75 persons turned out to make the annual family picnic of the Pequinot-Yeager Post 8803, last Sun., Aug. 29 a big success.

It was held at the recently cleared Post Park on Tidoute Creek. Following a bountiful picnic dinner, the adults took to pitching horseshoes with two sets going. The young fry took turns on the swings and in the swimming pool which the men have cleared in Tidoute Creek.

While the water is only about one and a half to two feet deep, it affords a fine splashing place for the children, with no danger.

At present there are three wooden tables and 3 steel tables in the Park and three fireplaces for outdoor cooking. The Park is open to the public and has been used extensively this summer. The only rules are to keep the place clean. Since there is no garbage disposal, all who picnic there are asked to take their garbage with them. Also it is impossible to keep a supply of dry wood for the fireplaces, so each group is to take its own wood or charcoal.

To date, all who have picnicked there have done a good job of policing the grounds and have left it clean and in good order. As long as this attitude prevails the Park is open to all who wish to use it.

For those who have not been there, the Park is not far from the borough line, on the left side of Tidoute Creek, near the Norton Mill.

PINNED EAGLE SCOUT

Edward Ziegler (L) was pinned as an Eagle Scout by his father Bruce Ziegler (C) and recommended by Al Larimer, (R) Scoutmaster of Troop 27. Ceremony took place at the Sept. 3 meeting of the Lions Club, sponsors of the troop for the past two years.

Ziegler Pinned Eagle Scout

Edward Ziegler, THIS 1968 graduate and honor student was the first Scout of Troop 27 to be made an Eagle Scout since the Lions Club assumed sponsorship two years ago.

At a colorful ceremony on the Tuesday night (Sept. 3) meeting of the Lions Club, Ziegler was recommended by Scout Master Al Larimer and presented with the Eagle badge and an arm patch by his father Bruce Ziegler, assistant Scout Master of Tidoute, R.D. 1. This is the highest honor a Scout may earn and Ziegler's blouse bore the evidence of the many badges he has earned in the past to qualify as an Eagle. He plans to enter The Pennsylvania State University on Monday, Sept. 16 to matriculate in the School of Mineral Industries to specialize in petroleum engineering. He is among those fortunate students who will be on the main campus for his freshman and sophomore years. However he says it has taken over two years of effort to enter on the main campus.

Shelby Schall
To Have Surgery

Shelby (Shell) Schall left yesterday, (Thursday) for Temple University Hospital, Philadelphia, where he will undergo a second extensive operation on Sept. 10.

It was announced at the Tuesday meeting of the Lions Club that he will need several pints of blood at this time. Volunteer donors were called for among club members with five men responding.

While this may be enough, those of you who are not members of the Lions Club and are able to donate blood, may want to help a friend and neighbor in need, by volunteering. If you wish to do so, contact John Mellon or Louis Schwab, two club donors who are arranging for all donors to go to Warren at one time in one or more cars. It is not necessary to know Shell's blood type as the blood is kept in the Warren Bank which provides for the right type of blood to be used in Philadelphia.

Lions Sponsor
Eye Donor Drive

The Tidoute Lions Club is proud to announce that to date it has 21 donors in Tidoute for the eye bank. However there is a constant demand for donated eyes, so the Lions are presently sponsoring the eye donor drive which originates in the Warren Sight Saving Office.

Lion Tom Hoffman announces that we will soon be receiving eye donor seals from this office, but that all funds collected in this area are returned to our Tidoute Lions Club.

If you wish for more information on this sight saving project, call president Walter McKown or Tom Hoffman for more details.

A good way of clearing wood chips out of a bored hole is to use an old piece of open-coil spring. After removing the bit, put the spring in the hole, give it a few turns, then remove it. The chips cling to the spring coils.

AN EDITORIAL

Tidioute Lions Club
To Clean Up Old Cemetery

By Lois McCloskey

It was like celestial music to our ears when we heard the Lions Club announce a work bee on Saturday, Sept. 14 at 2 p.m., to start work on cleaning up our old neglected cemetery in the heart of town where lie the men, women, and children who struggled through the beginnings of what is "OUR TOWN" today. For years they have lain, covered with weeds, briars, a tangle of underbrush and too many overhanging trees, for their descendants to locate their final resting place.

The only person we know of, in recent years, who has devoted much time and effort to keep ahead of the growing jungle, is James King. But it is much more than a one-man job. It calls for strong backs, power saws, axes, many trucks to carry away the debris, and most important, heavy clothing such as a sweat shirt with long sleeves, and a kerchief around the neck to ward off the bugs; heavy dungarees, jeans or strong slacks, long heavy socks to pull up over the trouser legs and stout shoes or boots.

Having been there three times this summer, we know it is no place for a sleeveless shirt, shorts and bare legs with sneakers. The ground is covered with a heavy layer of pine needles, myrtle, brambles, broken branches and many unseen holes.

If you smoke, take the pipe along, or a can of bug spray or a bug bomb as the gnats and black flies are more than plentiful. There is no water close by, so take a thermos of cold water to quench the thirst.

While the Lions Club is sponsoring this work bee, they are going to need all the help they can get to do a real job. Every able bodied man and boy who is free on Saturday should have enough community spirit and pride to do his share, now that the ball is rolling and with the O.K. of Mayor Garwood Lodge, who issued permission since the cemetery property belongs to the borough.

We also call on all of the descendants of these sturdy pioneers to be on hand to aid in any way possible. Some of the prominent names with several graves are the Morrisons, Richardsons, Magills, McGee and Magee, Thompson, Smith, Arters and Levi Sutton.

At present we have the names of an even 100 persons listed on headstones but many people feel that once the ground is cleared more stones will be found.

When the ground is cleared, it is hoped that it can be seeded, the fence repaired and painted. . . and in the near future, would it be too much to ask that the Lions Club have a suitable marker erected in a prominent place so that our tourists will flock there to see what one small town did when it put its shoulder to the task at hand?

Perhaps no one has noted the fact that it took five historical stories by this reporter, who felt she must be a small voice crying in the wilderness; to get action. Now with the Lions Club at the helm we feel that our dream will be accomplished because, when the Lions roar they get action, and action gets things done.

Wolford Receives Citation

Marine Sgt. Dennis Wolford has recently been awarded two Presidential citations and a battle cross for his outstanding service as a Marine during the heavily besieged Khe Sahn, Vietnam ordeal.

Presently he is home on leave, having arrived on August 14, in time to serve as best man for his brother Pfc. Ralph Edward Wolford, USM, whose wedding took place on August 24.

Presently he is home on a 30-day leave with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Keith Wolford of Main st. On Sept. 12 he reports at Camp Lejeune, North Carolina. He hopes to be discharged July, 1969 when he completes his present service duty.

Afternoon Circle
To Elect Officers

The election of new officers will be an important part of the agenda of the Afternoon Circle of the United Methodist Church group when it holds its first meeting of the new year on Tuesday, Sept. 11 at 1:30 p.m.

The circle will meet at the home of the present vice-chairman, Mrs. William Karns on Economy street. Mrs. Ray McManigle, the chairman will be in charge of the meeting.

SPARTANS LEAD SIX FOES
EAST LANSING, Mich (AP) — Michigan State holds a winning edge over six of the 10 football opponents the Spartans meet this fall.

On the plus side for State are the series with Syracuse (5-3-0), Wisconsin (8-6-0), Ohio State (5-3-0), Indiana (15-6-1), Purdue (11-10-1) and Northwestern (9-3-0).

Michigan State trails in series with Michigan (19-36-5), Minnesota (4-6-0) and Notre Dame (14-18-1). The Spartans will play Baylor this fall for the first time.

Scouts to Have Important Meet

Scout master Al Larimer, of Troop 27, announces an important meeting of all Scouts on Tuesday, Sept. 10 at 7 p.m. in the Fire Hall. At this time an important project for the scouts will be presented. Larimer urges all scouts to be present.

Buckleys Have Girl

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Buckley, 4 Grant st., announce the birth of a daughter Kimberly K., born Aug. 30, at 3:30 a.m. at the Titusville General Hospital. She weighed in at six pounds 10 ounces. Mrs. Buckley is the daughter of Mrs. Lillian Turner of Third st., and granddaughter of Mrs. Irene Morrison of 149 Main st.

5 In Memoriam

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our daughter, LINDA HARRIGER, who passed away September 6, 1967.

In our hearts your memory lingers,
Always tender, fond and true;
There's not a day, dear Daughter,
We do not think of you,
Sadly missed by Mother and Dad

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our beloved sister Linda Darlene Harriger, who was so suddenly taken away from us in such a tragic way, one year ago today, September 6, 1967.

Time cannot steal the treasures
That we carry in our hearts,
Nor ever dim the shining thoughts
Your cherished past imparts.
And memories of the one we loved so much
Still cast their gentle glow,
To grace our days and light our paths
Wherever we may go.
Sadly missed by sister and brother,
Mr. and Mrs. Courtney Harriger, Cassie Harriger

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of CLARENCE ZERBE, who passed away three years ago today, September 6, 1965 (also his birthday).

The flowers we place upon your grave
May wither and decay,
But our love for you who sleeps beneath
Will never fade away.
Sadly missed by his family.

Rt. 337, 2 1/2 mi. from Tidioute
Extra large lot. Very well built 3 bedroom cement block, 1-floor home. Livable, but, needs some inside finishing — A real bargain.

Chapman Dam Road

Sturdy older home, 3 or 4 bedrooms. 268 ft. road frontage. A money maker for the handyman.

Start Your Own Business

With a full beverage license, transferable in Warren County. Very reasonable.

Don't Forget

About the need for motels in this area. I have 2 very nice motels, selling due to retirement, and uncontrollable circumstances.
